AS 'BEARS' ATTACKTotal Sales of 6,368,300

Day's Turnover Since
March 26 Last.New York, October 23.—(P)—Wall Street was thrown into the nearest approximation of a stock market panic experienced in years during the last hour of trading on the New York Stock Exchange today.A new and wholly unexpected avalanche of selling swept over the market, carrying scores of stocks down from $10 to $20 a share, wiping out more than $3,000,000,000 in paper values in the brief interval of an hour—a pace of $50,000,000 a minute.Stock price averages and prices indicated that never before in modern financial history had quoted values disappeared so swiftly. Bankers pointed out, however, that in view of the amazing and unprecedented rise in stock prices in the past year and a half, this break could be by no means regarded as reducing prices to disastrously low levels.The thoroughly demoralizing aspect of the collapse was its swiftness. The market opened rather dull and drifted along with several important stocks recording temporary gains until mid-afternoon, when a sharp "bear" drive was launched against the automotive equipment and radio stocks, several of which were sent down $10 or more to new low levels for the year.Traders and investors alike were in a highly nervous state of mind, owing to the severe decline in prices during the past fortnight, and as soon as the market showed signs of going into a further slump, they rushed to get rid of their stocks for what they would bring.The trading facilities were completely overwhelmed. The quotations on the ticker tape fell half an hour and more behind the trading, and as word reached commission house boardrooms that stocks were selling several dollars below prices on the tape, traders became thoroughly frightened and sold without rhyme or reason.Total sales of 6,368,300 shares were upped up of which about 2,600,000 shares changed hands between 2 and 3 o'clock. This turnover exceeded the 6,001,800 shares of Monday, and was the largest since March 26, when more than 8,000,000 shares were traded.
The ticker did not print the final quotations until an hour and three-quarters after the close.More than 100 shares were carried over new lows for the year, including such issues as General Motors, Radio, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, Sleight Oil, Chrysler, Canadian Pacific, Kennecott and Lambert. The great bulk of leading stocks, however, closed well above the low levels of last May. The Standard Statistics Company-Associated Press price index of 50 leading industrials reached the lowest level since June 12, that of 20 titles the lowest since June 26, and that of 20 rails the lowest since July 3.While brokers acknowledged that hundreds of small traders undoubtedly had been completely wiped out, the senior partner of one of the largest commission houses said a tremendous amount of stock, having been held over a period of months, was sold at a profit. It was pointed out that while such a precipitous decline would have had disastrous results a few years ago when margins of only about 10 per cent were required, with present margins of from 35 to 50 per cent, such brokerage houses and banks were sorely protected.Wild Disorder.
There were scenes of wild disorder in the trading floor. The market was loaded with selling orders and for a time suffered from a panicky lack of buying orders. Members screamed their offers for several minutes at a time without finding takers. Strong interests, however, soon became aware of the situation and came into the market to take up the offerings. In one leading stock, such as United States Steel common and American Telephone, closing prices were substantially above the day's lowest. The lead of one large commission house estimated that numerically five times more selling orders were received than buying.

Subsidizing of College Athletes Is Bared

Carnegie Foundation's Report Made Public at New York.

BY TED VOSBURGH.

Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, October 23.—(P)—The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching today made public the elaborate results of its searching and, in some respects, sensational investigation into American college athletics, particularly football.The Foundation report, which may become famous as "Bulletin No. 23," in its revelations and effects runs the gamut of methods, practices and conditions, but focuses principally upon what the investigators characterize as
"the deepest shadow that darkens American colleges and schools athletics"—the widespread practice of recruiting and subsidizing athletes."Those who tempt young men to barter their honesty for the supposed advantage of a college course, dishon-orably achieved, are the Eugens of American sport and American higher education," declares the 383-page bulletin prepared by Howard J. Savage, staff member of the Foundation; Harold W. Bentley, John T. McGovern and Dean F. Smiley, M. D.Placing the responsibility squarely upon the shoulders of the college executives, the authors find that "in the murky there are many bright patches," and that "the university or college that, under capable leadership, makes up its collective mind to cast out these practices, can do so."Portions of the picture are even blacker than they have been painted.
The investigators assert in concluding the illuminating section on recruiting and subsidizing, in which facts are given and institutions frankly and im-partially named whether in criticism or in praise.The inquiry consumed more than three and a half years, entailed personal visits to 130 American and Canadian colleges, universities and schools, and involved the co-operation of more than 2,000 persons. Only two of the 130 institutions did not co-operate (fully), the report states, specifying the University of Georgia and Oglethorpe.This marks the first probe of American athletics by the Carnegie Foundation, which has long been famous for English athletics but otherwise concentrated chiefly on the study of general or special educational subjects, such as law, literature, etc.The varieties of recruiting," the report states, "range from rare and casual contacts made or directed by an individual in the athletic organization of the institution (Chicago, University of Colorado, Cornell, Washington State college) in which the motive may be the general welfare of the institution or personal favor, to an intensely organized, sometimes subtle, system that may utilize or co-ordinate numbers of agents on or off the campus (Michigan, Northwestern, Oglethorpe, Southern California, Wisconsin).The schoolboy notion that athletic ability can be turned to advantage is so widespread that the mercenary athlete seldom waits for solicitation. In common parlance, he starts "shopping."
For purposes of "shopping" around one schoolboy (Evanston, Ill.) was an enterprise worthy of a more honorable cause, had an especially favorable press review and was photographed for a local paper with some of its comments underscored.

More Sales Letters.

Almost identical letters of another high school athlete (New York city), who was hawking his services, were encountered at no fewer than five institutions.A third football prospect, much solicited, furnished out in a stone quarry 58 answers to his own tenders, with

AFTER DYNAMITE BLAST AT CALHOUNCalhoun, Ga., October 23.—(Special).—Twenty men were hurt, two seriously, by a "dynamite" blast of dynamite exploded in a stone quarry four miles from here this afternoon.Nineteen of the injured were negroes. Attaches of a Rome hospital tonight said Willie Hardin and Ellis Faulkner, both negroes, were in a dying condition as a result of the blast. The others were not hurt badly enough to require hospital treatment.
The men entered the quarry about five minutes after a blast had been set off and began carting the stone out, when a stick of dynamite which had not been exploded on the charge, went off, injuring all of the men working.Community Chest

Chest "Honor Roll"

The "honor roll" of commercial establishments which have subscribed their quotas, based on one-half to 1 per cent of the annual pay rolls, to the Community Chest and its 39 agencies of helplessness, had three new names Wednesday.
They were:Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills.
Atlanta Terra Cotta Company.
Haas-Howell Insurance Company.Others already on the honor roll were the Retail Credit Company, the Georgia Power Company and the J. P. Stevens Engraving Company.A certificate signifying that the quota has been subscribed is given to each of the concerns attaining the honor roll."This is a real honor roll," said Roy LeCraw, general campaign chairman, "because it signifies that those institutions whose loyalty to Atlanta, its people and its interests has been proved."Atlanta's gift to charity for 1929 nearly the half-way mark of the $480-000 goal Wednesday, when reports at the daily luncheon showed that a total of $220,765.10 has been raised during the first three days of the seventh annual Community Chest drive.Instead of diminishing in numbers as has heretofore been the case, the workers in the drive showed up in greater force at Wednesday's meeting, Arthur Falkenberg, song leader, who has led the "pep" music at Chest drive meetings for the past several years, commented on the fact that it was the strongest Wednesday's assembly of Chest workers that he had ever seen.A. E. Sartor, a captain in Colonel C. F. Drew's band, who was Wednesday's prize for the largest team collection, reported that his band collections totaled $1,257, of which $800 was raised by H. St. J. Scott, a worker on his team. Captain Sartor was awarded a pair of Florsheim shoes donated by Paul Barcroft.The amount reported Wednesday was $23,396.10, of which the groups division raised $20,214 and the division gifts division $3,182.00. Division reports included $1,880 from Colonel J. H. Wood's workers, $8,341.25 from Colonel C. F. Drew, $4,213.25 raised by Colonel J. A. Cassidy's men, $2,707.75 from the division headed by Colonel E. A. Thorpe, and $2,306.25 from Colonel L. H. Morehead, Jr. The "clean-up" squad reported $389.General Manager Roy LeCraw announced that the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills, the Atlanta Terra Cotta Company, and Haas-Howell Insurance Company have joined the list of those who have made their quotas 100 per cent.Mr. LeCraw made a short talk to the workers on salesmanship, urging the Chest representatives to put forth their best efforts toward securing subscriptions.The Rev. Richard Orme Flinn spoke for a few moments on the theme of "The Lord Loves a Cheerful Giver." Song Leader Falkenberg aroused a tremendous response to his call for new music, practically every one joining in the chorus that nearly lifted the roof off the Ansley roof garden."Fat" Elrod told the prize hard-luck story of the campaign when he said that out of 19 calls he raised only $5. Elrod said that his prospect cards seemed to be for persons who are more in need of aid from the Chest themselves than able to give to the fund, but that he was doing his best and hoped to wind up with a big report.General Manager LeCraw has issued a call for more volunteer workers in an effort to put the Chest fund over the top this year. Those who are already soliciting funds are doing their best, but more persons are required to canvass the city thoroughly, Mr.
LeCraw said.Atlanta's workers are willing to aid the drive by giving their time are urged to report to the Chest headquarters in the Chandler annex or to call Walnut 3211.Mr. LeCraw said that he is convinced that the drive will go over the top if all of the prospect cards can be worked. The success of the first three days proves that, he declared.The present drive is still ahead of last year's campaign. The total for the first three days of the 1928 drive was $218,309.32, or $2,456.55 less than the total for the first three days of this year.Mr. LeCraw said that he hopes that the good work will be kept up and that today's results will put the 1929 drive well ahead of the total of $275-523 for the first four days of last year's campaign.DRUID HILLS BUS LINE AUTHORIZEDInter-City Coach Co. Is Given Right To Operate Between Ponce de Leon,
Clifton and Decatur.The Georgia public service commission, in an order issued Wednesday, granted the Inter-City Coach Lines, Inc., authority to operate a bus line from the intersection of Ponce de Leon avenue and Clifton road to the court house and the Georgia railroad depot at Decatur.Over the objection of the Georgia Power Company the application was granted on the ground that the Inter-City Company having already established a form of service in the territory, has acquired a preference.Specifically the route followed by the line will be along Ponce de Leon avenue from the intersection of Clifton road to the county courthouse at Decatur, thence to the depot by the most practical route, returning by the same route to the courthouse, thence Clairmont avenue to North Decatur road, North Decatur road to Wesley Memorial hospital, to Emory university, thence to Clifton road and along that road to the point of intersection with Ponce de Leon avenue.

Route to Avondale.

The commission further concluded that the applicant was entitled to a certificate authorizing it to operate a bus service from the courthouse in Decatur, over Sycamore street and other streets on a direct route to Avondale.
The granting of the certificate was made contingent upon the bus company's indicating to the commission its willingness to accept such certificates on or before 10 a. m. October 26. On failure of the bus company to so indicate its willingness to accept, the commission then will give consideration to the question of issuing a certificate to the Georgia Power Company for the same purposes, or to such portion of them as the commission may conclude to be reasonable and consistent with the viewpoint of public convenience.The Inter-City Company was denied the right to operate over two routes proposed within the city of Atlanta—from the intersection of Spring and Mitchell streets, thence along Spring to Hunter to Broad, and from Broad to Peachtree, Peachtree to Houston, Houston to Courtland, a route over which applicant has never operated at any time—and from the intersection of Cone and Walton streets along a badly congested road, and largely in direct competition with the street railway line of the Georgia Power Company to Decatur.

Round Trips Made.

Several round trips, it was testified, were made over the first route in the latter part of June and early July. The officials said that the company, the applicant during that time was in no wise prepared to provide adequate service, and ruled that it was not operating under such conditions as to entitle it to preference.The Atlanta-Decatur route was denied because the record of the case did not show that the service offered by the Georgia Power Company was not adequate and reasonable.The main, or North Decatur street car line, for several years has failed to take in sufficient revenue to pay the actual operating expenses, due to an established contract fixing a 5-cent fare for this line, it was stated in the opinion. If this fare had been effective on all lines of the company, it was said, it would have failed in the sum of $732,452.09 to take in sufficient revenue to pay actual operating expenses. This condition was brought out because the effect of competitive service, as sought by the bus company, would be to further reduce the revenues of a street car line which is now failing to pay expenses.THREE TOTS DEAD.

BY ESCAPING GASHamilton, Ohio, October 23.—(P)—
Three children are dead, their mother and two other children are in a critical condition and police are seeking the husband and father, Charles King, Sr., 38, for questioning as a result of the finding of all six in their gas-filled home here early tonight.The dead: Keith King, 5; Leon, 12; Robert, condition: Mrs. Sarah Ethel King, 31, the mother; Charles, Jr., 6; Paul, 10.NAME OF DITEMAN ADDED TO MISSING

ATLANTIC FLIERSFormer Cowboy, in Tiny Monoplane, Hours Overdue at London; Hope Almost Gone.New York, October 23.—(United News).—Urban F. Diteman, the former Montana cowboy and cattleman who left Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, last night at 11 a. m. on a standard flight to London, was listed definitely among the missing tonight.At 11 p. m. 30 hours, when Diteman was expected to have been in London, yesterday on a trans-Atlantic flight from Copenhagen, he had not been heard from since he took off from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, with fuel enough to last only 25 hours.Croydon aerodrome, near London, was lighted up to receive him, but no hope was held he would reach there.Late tonight, when hope for Diteman's safety virtually had been abandoned, a suggestion came from Copenhagen, Denmark, that perhaps the aviator had chosen to fly to London by way of Greenland, with a stop at Julianahab.Three drums of gasoline, containing 158 gallons, were sent to Julianahab from Copenhagen last night at the request of an American flier. The drums were to be held at Diteman's disposal.But in his letter left behind at Harbor Grace when he took off Diteman gave no indication of planning to fly by way of Greenland. He merely said,
"Watch me." "No news of Diteman," said the word came back.Points in Greenland were questioned by cable and the word came back,
"No news of Diteman."PLANE COULD FLY INDEFINITELY.Manhall, Mo., October 23.—(P)— Under favorable conditions the monoplane, Golden Hind, could float indefinitely if forced down on water, said officials of the Western Aircraft Aircraft Company, which built the plane used by Urban F. Diteman, Jr., in his trans-Atlantic flight attempt.It was pointed out that while the plane was not designed for water flights or such a hazardous cruise as undertaken by Diteman, the tiny ship could be kept afloat for a considerable time, and could be refueled in two minutes and then closed airtight. These tanks, if made airtight, would keep the plane afloat for a considerable time.Engineers also recalled that after Diteman had flown the ship to Montana, he had reported the gasoline consumption as being only 4 1/2 gallons an hour. A cruising speed of 100 miles an hour was mentioned.
It was obtained at this rate of consumption, the pilot said.At this rate Diteman could remain in the air more than 36 hours.OGLETHORPE BOY KILLED IN FALLMangled Body of Raymond McEwen Found on Tracks Near End of Car Line.Raymond McEwen, 21, a freshman at Oglethorpe university, was mysteriously killed Wednesday night after he had fallen from the rear end of an Oglethorpe belt street car.According to a report made to power company officials by G. D.
Singleton, motorman of a one-man car, the victim and two friends had been hanging on the rear end of the car, and in some way McEwen was supposed to have lost his footing and to have fallen.The fall happened about 400 yards from the end of the line, when the car stopped. The boys noticed that their friend was missing and started a search for him.In the meantime the street car had started its return trip to the city, power company officials believe, and probably ran over the boy.When McEwen was found by his companions his face and head had been badly mangled, both legs were severed just above the ankles and there was a deep gash in his back.
The two boys were in an ambulance but McEwen died before he arrived at a local hospital.The body is at the chapel of H. M.
Patterson & Son, awaiting instructions from relatives in Charleston.
Parents of the victim are dead, it is understood.Verdict in Manley

WATERWAY PLANSPresident Says Program Calls for Expenditure of $100,000,000 Annually
On Streams.BY LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.
United News Staff Correspondent.Louisville, Ky., October 23.—President Hoover, addressing the nation from Memorial hall here tonight proclaimed the renaissance of "Old Man River."The president had planned to make his speech from a puffing tail-wheel steamer moored to a tobacco wharf, but the inclement weather which has dogged him since he started on his Ohio river celebration tour, followed him here with rain which at times turned to snow and forced him to talk indoors.He outlined in detail the administration program for "modernizing every part of our waterways which will show economic justification in aid to our farmers and industries."Average expenditures of approximately $100,000,000 annually from the federal treasury during the next 10 years are contemplated in the new national program.Major projects listed by the president were:1. "We should complete the entire Mississippi system within the next five years."2. "We should continue improvement of the channels in the Great Lakes; we should determine and construct those works necessary for stabilizing the lake levels."3. "One of the most vital improvements to transportation of the North American continent is the removal of the obstacles in the St. Lawrence river to ocean-going vessels inward to the Great Lakes. Our nation should undertake to do this."4. "The total construction cost of these works amounts to projects three and four times as great as the Panama Canal. At the present time we are expending approximately $55,000,000 per annum on new construction and maintenance of these works. To complete these programs within the periods I have mentioned will require an increase in the government outlay by about $100,000,000 per annum, not including the St. Lawrence; at most, including that item, an increase in our expenditures of say $200,000,000 a year. A considerable portion of this will end in five years' time. It is of the nature of a capital investment."The projected annual increase in river and harbor expenditures over the existing budget for such work would be equal only "to the cost of one-half of one battleship," the president declared.

Swords to Plowshares.

"If we are so fortunate as to save this annual outlay on naval constructions as the result of the forthcoming naval conference in London, nothing could be a finer or more vivid conversion of swords into plowshares," he commented.The president's address was sent over a nationwide radio chain in celebration of completion of a 9-foot channel over the 1,000-mile Ohio river route from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Illinois.His keynote was sounded in an allusion to the new 2,000-mile nine-foot waterway from Pittsburgh to New Orleans by way of the Ohio and Mississippi.This transformation will not revive the romantic steamboat days of Mark Twain, but it will move more goods."The picturesque floating palaces of Mark Twain's day drew two or three feet of water and even then found their way precariously around the bends, among the snags and over sand bars. In time they were unable to complete with the spreading railroads and river navigation passed into its grave.Funeral arrangements will be announced later by J. Austin Dillon.

District Attorney Clint Hager States That Government Will Close Early Today.Fate of W. D. Manley, former head of the Bankers' Trust Company, now on trial in local federal court on charges of fraudulent use of the mails, will be decided this afternoon, it was indicated Wednesday, United States District Attorney Clint W. Hager having announced that less than two hours would be necessary to complete the government's case after court opens this morning.Defense attorneys have taken no active part in the proceedings since the trial opened Tuesday, maintaining that they have been unable to confer with their client. That such a procedure can only lead to an immediate verdict of guilty when the case reaches the jury, is generally agreed in court circles.The defendant Wednesday appeared to be in much better physical condition, and while he did not seem to take an active interest in the court procedure, he evidently was much more capable of moving himself around on the hospital cot he has occupied since the start of his sanity hearing last week. At one time he took a little coffee and often asked for water. Attendants reported that he was resting much more comfortably and was evidencing no further disposition to refuse nourishment and medicine.

Letters in Court.

Identification of letters contained in 10 of the 20 counts in the mail fraud indictment occupied most of the afternoon court session, witnesses from Georgia and Florida being called to the stand for this purpose. Each of the 20 counts will be presented to the jury, Mr. Hager indicated.Testimony relative to the alleged illegal transaction of the Bankers' Trust Company with the Brunswick Shipbuilding Company, which resulted in the distribution of some $300,000 in worthless paper among the chain of banks in Georgia and Florida, and charges that more than $400,000 of a deposi-tor's guarantee fund "disappeared" because of the Bankers' Trust Company, furnished the highlights of the day's hearing. Witness after witness was called to the stand to testify to all phases of the various transactions and the rapidly mounting pile of government evidence reached 90 separate exhibits.Private correspondence between Manley and the late J. A. Sasser, former official of the Bankers' Trust Company, was read to the jury by Mr. Hager to support his contention that Manley deliberately planned to divert the funds of the depositors guarantee fund to his own use and that of the Bankers' Trust Company.

Found in Office.

The letters, according to the testimony of H. P. Mayhew, postoffice inspector, had been found in Manley's private office after the failure of the Bankers' Trust Company in 1928.These letters were alleged to have been written in the first part of August, 1928, and were presented to the jury to show that withdrawals amounting to more than $500,000 had followed almost immediately. This amount, he charged, was deposited in the Farmers and Traders' bank of this city and then various sums drawn therefrom.

WHITES IN AFRICA FEAR BORDER NATIVES

Nairobi, Kenya Colony, British East Africa, October 23.—(P)—Growing lawlessness among the young fighting men of the frontier tribes, Lumb was and Massais, has filled whites in certain sections of this part of British East Africa with foreboding. The whites are hopelessly outnumbered by the native Africans, to whom are credited an increasing number of cattle thefts, burglaries and other crimes. Attacks have been made on tribesmen suspected of being informers.

Sir Edward Grigg, governor of Kenya colony, reported to the legislative council yesterday the results of a personal survey of the affected area. African rifles—native drilled troops—the disturbing influences at work. Sir Edward gave it as his opinion that the growing tendency of the young Lumbwa warriors to lawlessness was bound to have a bad effect on other tribes.

NEW YORK BUS LINE TO OPERATE IN STATE

Cincinnati, Ohio, October 23.—(Special).—Attorney Thomas L. Tallentire, attorney for Interstate Transit, Inc., late today stated officially here that he had been granted rights by the state of Georgia to operate that company's bus lines throughout the state of Georgia from Chattanooga to Atlanta, from Atlanta to Macon, and from Macon to Cordele, and that now his permits also would allow him to insure competent public service from Detroit, Mich., to Cincinnati. However, he needs Kentucky state permits to allow his corporation to operate from this city to Lexington, Ky., Knoxville, Tenn., and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Tallentire states officially that he is to appear at Frankfort, Ky., state capital Friday to argue in behalf of his being allowed to operate the latter mentioned route, a connecting link between the Detroit-Cincinnati route and the Chattanooga-Atlanta-Macon-Cordele-Jacksonville route. He says that he is assured that there will be no valid objection and therefore his concern expects very soon, to be operating completely from the Canada Dominion line to Jacksonville, Fla.

COMMISSION RULES ON BUS APPLICATIONS.
Decisions on seven applications, involving as many proposed motor carrier routes within the state, were handed down by the Georgia public service commission Wednesday. One applicant was granted permission to haul passengers and luggage between Monticello and Atlanta; another to haul freight by motor truck between Glenville and Savannah, and a third was permitted to carry passengers and express between Dalton, Atlanta and Gainesville, but refused the right to transport freight between Atlanta and Gainesville. Permits were denied in applications for the following routes: Passenger and express between Gadsden, Ala., and Atlanta; freight between Atlanta, Lawrenceville and Gainesville; freight between Macon and Oglethorpe, and freight between Macon and Hardwick. Another petition, asking a permit for a freight line between Wrightsville and Savannah, was dismissed because the applicant failed to appear at the hearing.

"SUCCOTH FEAST" COMES TO CLOSE WITH END OF WEEK

With services at the Jewish temple on Friday night and Saturday morning, the Feast of Tabernacles, or, as it is called in the Hebrew, "The Feast of Succoth," will come to a close. "Succoth" is observed for eight days in memory of the wanderings of the Hebrews through the desert on their way to the Holy Land, and hence the name "Succoth," meaning tents or tabernacles. But the feast has an agricultural significance as well. It was the feast of the ripening of the fruits and the gathering of the harvest in ancient Palestine. In modern days the synagogue is decorated with fruit and shrubbery.

Services of the Jewish temple will be held in the temporary headquarters of the organization, which is now building a new home, at the old home of the Standard Club, 214 Washington street, S. W. The Friday night services will begin at 8 o'clock, and the Saturday morning services at 10 o'clock. Rabbi Marx will speak at the Saturday morning services.

ENGLISH BISHOPS DISCUSS PRAYER BOOK APPROVED

London, October 23.—(P)—The revised book of common prayer of the Church of England, twice rejected by parliament but recently approved again by the convocations of the church, was discussed by the bishops today at Lambeth palace, residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury. When the church assembly meets again the bishops will probably ask for appointment of a commission to study the new constitutional position arising from parliament's rejection of the book.

WATER LINE LOSES FIGHT ON RAIL RATES

Washington, October 23.—(P)—The Luckenbach Steamship Company lost its attempt today to have the interstate commerce commission hold railway freight rates between New Orleans and Mobile and interior points in southeastern territory on traffic transported to and from the Pacific coast by the steamship company unreasonable. The steamship company complained that the rates maintained by the carriers placed it in unfair competition with transcontinental railways handling freight from the same southeastern territory. It contended the class and commodity rates from south Atlantic and Gulf ports, including Wilmington, N. C., Charleston, S. C., Brunswick and Savannah, Ga.; Jacksonville and Pensacola, Fla., in addition to Mobile and New Orleans were unreasonable. However, the commission found the case rested principally upon the New Orleans and Mobile ports and only these were considered.

RETIRED BROKER LEAVES $3,000,000 TO CHARITY GROUP

New York, October 23.—(P)—Lloyd W. Seaman, retired stock broker, who has been a quiet giver of charities during his lifetime left $3,250,000 of his estimated $4,500,000 estate to charity at his death, it was revealed today with the filing of his will. He died October 20. The Salvation Army, the Charity Organization Society and Roosevelt hospital, where he died, each receive $1,000,000. St. John's guild, which has maintained a floating hospital for the poor for several years, was willed $100,000 and the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat hospital, like amount. St. John's Riverside hospital, Yonkers, N. Y., was bequeathed $50,000. Relatives were left bequests ranging from $40,000 to $200,000.

$25,000 RUM CARGO AND 4 MEN SEIZED

Truck Believed Connected With Smuggling Ring in Eastern States.

Harpwell, Maine, October 23.—(P)—A truckload of rye whiskey valued at $25,000 was seized here today by authorities who barricaded a highway and prevented passage of the truck and an accompanying automobile. Four men were arrested and a batch of telegrams and letters taken which police said linked the operators with a smuggling ring with ramifications in a number of eastern states. Authorities declared the captured men attempted to destroy the papers immediately after their arrest. They said the men were connected with the activities of George Alberts—former United States immigration officer at Niagara Falls, N. Y., who was taken into custody a month ago when liquor valued at $35,000 was seized at Guin Point, Maine. Albert now is at liberty on heavy bail. The four men captured were riding in the accompanying automobile. The driver of the truck escaped. He fled as he approached the summit of the hill, where the barricade had been erected, leaving his machine to coast backward until brought under control by the police. The truck was equipped with Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine plates. On the driver's seat was a .32 caliber rifle.

OFFICER, TRAPPED IN HIS BEDROOM BY FIRE, BURNS

Canton, Miss., October 23.—(P)—Trapped in his second story bedroom at the home of W. B. Jones, Madison county chancery clerk, J. H. Brown, 69, a district constable for the past 12 years, was burned to death today. His body was recovered from the charred wreckage of the building. Jones was seen trying to pry open a window screen, but rescuers were unable to reach him.

TRIAL OF THREE FOR SMUGGLING ALIENS IS SET

Tampa, Fla., October 23.—(P)—Trial of John Wesley Storter, West Palm Beach; George Storter, Naples, and Warner Bryant, Fort Myers, on charges of smuggling aliens into the United States, was set for October 31, in federal court here today. The trio was arrested in connection with their alleged importation of aliens into Miami from Cuba. Arrest resulted from the activities of a Cuban secret service man who passed as one of the aliens being brought in.

GIRL GOES ON TRIAL FOR LIFE IN DEATH OF HER FATHER

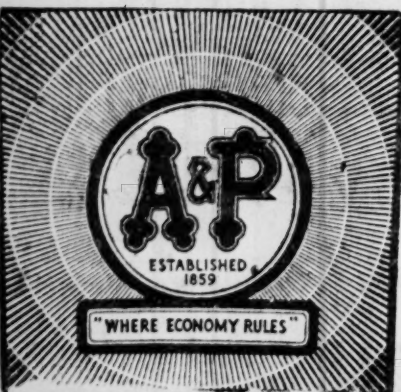

Bryson City, N. C., October 23.—(United News).—Confronted with the charge of first degree murder and the sight of a bag of stones with which the prosecution charged she weighted down her father's body after shooting him, Effie Davis, 18, was on trial for her life here today. Her father, Charles Davis, was shot and his body sunk in the bottom of Cheoah lake. Until today Miss Davis was at liberty under $5,000, employed as a waitress in Knoxville, Tenn.

$1,600,000 D. A. R. HALL CONSECRATED AT SIMPLE SERVICE

Washington, October 23.—(P)—The $1,600,000 Constitution Hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution, now nearing completion, was consecrated today with simple ceremonies participated in by at least one woman from every state and territory in the Union. The exercises included a consecration address by Bishop James E. Freeman, of the Episcopal church, and an invocation by Mrs. Rock Painter, of Carrollton, Mo.

'FAVORITISM' CHARGED TO FEDERAL ATTORNEY

Attention of Attorney-General Called to Activities of Charleston Official.

BY J. ERWIN GIFFORD, Associated Press Staff Writer. Washington, October 23.—(P)—Acting quickly today after it had examined a confidential report of the department of justice, the senate patronage committee called Attorney-General Mitchell's attention to a dozen charges that a federal district attorney of South Carolina was unfit to hold office.

The letter to Mitchell was written on motion of Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, a member of the committee, which was adopted unanimously.

The report, which Chairman Brookhart said had been pigeon-holed by the department, was prepared by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of its bureau of investigation, on the basis of evidence gathered by a special investigator. Among the charges the document cites was one that J. D. E. Meyer, the district attorney, had associated with three other attorneys in the private practice of law and had extended "favoritism" to their clients.

"Four Horsemen." The three lawyers named were Major Thomas P. Stoney, of Charleston; A. R. McGowan and James Allen, all of whom had offices adjoining Meyer's. The quartet was described as "the four horsemen" of Charleston.

The letter to the attorney-general followed.

"Our committee investigating patronage matters begs leave to call your attention to the evidence adduced before our committee and especially to the reports and other documents in a confidential file of the bureau of investigation of your department with respect to District Attorney J. D. E. Meyer, Charleston, S. C.

"In the opinion of this committee, the charges are so serious and the evidence taken, including the evidence of Mr. Meyer himself, is so convincing as to Mr. Meyer's unfitness to hold the office of district attorney in South Carolina, that we feel we should call it to your attention with delay so that you may take such action as you may deem appropriate in the premises."

Meyer was summoned to Washington yesterday to answer testimony to the committee that he had failed to prosecute prohibition cases, one of which was against a man described as the "king of the bootleggers" in Berkeley county, South Carolina, a locality termed the "hell hole" of the state. This man, G. D. McKnight, later was appointed a federal prohibition agent.

The appointment, Meyer told the committee yesterday, was approved by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney-general in charge of prohibition cases, and Lincoln C. Andrews, former secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement. Meyer said he also had approved the appointment.

He said he would be "glad to answer" the charges in the report, and a copy of it was ordered furnished him. He will testify again after he has studied the document.

SENATE ASKS REPORTS ON PLANE ACCIDENTS

Opinions Differ on Legality of Making Federal Reports Public.

Washington, October 23.—(P)—Reports on investigations by the department of commerce into the causes of two recent airplane accidents in which 10 persons were killed were requested today in a resolution adopted by the senate.

The resolution, as introduced by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, and amended by Senator Bratton, democrat, New Mexico, asked for information about the week of the transcontinental air transport plane, City of San Francisco, in which eight persons lost their lives, and the crash near Memphis, Tenn., of a plane operated by an unlicensed pilot in which two passengers were killed. Neither of the reports has been given out.

Action was taken after the senate commerce committee, which approved the resolution, had heard from Secretary Lamont that the commerce department considered it unwise to make such reports public. Chairman Jones said the law made publication mandatory.

Lamont told the committee the department believed it had no authority to publish its findings, and he was asked to get a ruling from the attorney-general.

"If relieved of the legal responsibility," he said, "we would be glad to publish the reports."

The committee learned from another witness, Clarence M. Young, director of the aeronautics branch of the department, that details of the T. A. T. crash were given to the transport line, although they had been withheld from the public.

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., October 23.—(P)—Broward county grand jury today returned findings against three former members and two present members of the Broward county commission charging gross extravagance, negligence and incompetence.

The men named were: H. G. Wheeler, Fort Lauderdale, chairman of the old board; J. W. Walton, Pompano, chairman of the present board; Frank C. Dickey, Hollywood, of the old and new boards; J. M. Bryan, of Dania, and J. D. Butler, Deerfield, both members of the old board. Walton also was of the old board.

The jury said that present members of the commission who were members of the old board, namely, Dickey and Walton, were guilty of such malfeasance in office as to warrant the jury to ask for their removal from office by Governor Carlton.

RUSSIAN FLIERS STOP OVERNIGHT AT CHEYENNE

North Platte, Neb., October 23.—(P)—The Russian plane Land of the Soviets arrived here shortly before 5 p. m. today for an overnight stop. A group of about 30 citizens and air field attaches were on hand to greet the fliers, who are en route from Moscow to New York city.

They experienced rough going on their flight from Salt Lake City. No reception committee was on hand officially to welcome the Russians, the Chamber of Commerce having made no preparations for their visit.

When informed that no plans had been made for their visit, the fliers said they would spend the night at a hotel. The fliers plan to leave tomorrow for Chicago by way of Omaha.

C. A. STEVENSON, CENTRAL ENGINEER, INJURED IN WRECK

C. A. Stevenson, of Columbus, engineer of Central of Georgia passenger train No. 17, suffered severe lacerations about the face and body Wednesday morning when his engine ran into an open switch at the Taylor avenue crossing in East Point and crashed into a switch engine.

Stevenson, seeing the crash was inevitable, applied the brakes and jumped, landing on some crossties. He was taken to an Atlanta hospital where an examination revealed that his injuries were not serious.

The engine of the passenger train and the switch engine both were badly damaged.

LAVARRE-POWER SUIT ARGUMENTS TO BE CONTINUED

Columbia, S. C., October 23.—(P)—Motion of the International Paper & Power Company and the International Paper Company to dismiss the $250,000 suit instituted against them by William Lavarre, newspaper publisher, was argued at length before Federal Judge J. Lykes Allen today. After hearing arguments for several hours he adjourned the hearing until Friday.

The paper and power companies seek to have the suit dismissed on the grounds that the complaint in the action was improperly served in that it was served upon an officer of a subsidiary company. A mass of correspondence, checks, contracts and financial statements was introduced as evidence.

25 PERSONS HURT WHEN TROLLEY CAR GOES INTO DITCH

New York, October 23.—(P)—A trolley car carrying 25 passengers, half of them women, jumped the track in Brooklyn today and its rear end fell eight feet into a 20-foot excavation for a new subway.

The passengers were hurled into the rear end of the car where they remained, a screaming, scrambling mass, until police rescue squads could get them out 30 minutes later. All the passengers were slightly hurt. 11 of them requiring medical treatment at the scene.

HUGE INCREASE IN SILK HOSIERY SALES REPORTED

New York, October 23.—(P)—The Silk Association of America, in its midyear report today, said approximately 22,000,000 dozen pairs of silk hose were purchased by women last year, an increase of 2,000,000 dozen pairs over the previous year.

Raw silk consumption in silk manufacture increased more than 1,000,000 pounds during the year to meet the diversified requirements of American women.

"WATER BOY KING" OF AFGHANISTAN ENDS SHORT REIGN

Kabul, Afghanistan, October 23.—(P)—After holding out for nearly a week in the fortress Djebul-Seradi, Bacha Sakao, erstwhile king of Afghanistan, and former "waterboy of the north," surrendered today with 1,000 loyal adherents to Nadir Khan, Afghanistan's new king, on condition that their lives be spared.

Thus the tumultuous reign of the former water carrier who tasted the sweets of kingship for ten months, after driving Amullah from the throne, came to a dramatic close.

All the officials of the late court and cabinet, including Bacha's brother and Seid Hussein, governor of Mazar, were granted amnesty immediately by Nadir Khan. The fate of Bacha himself remains in doubt. He and his captured followers have been taken to Kabul.

Mercury Drop Seen for Today By Weatherman

A temperature drop down to 40 degrees, a figure not quite reached Wednesday, is predicted for Atlanta today by C. F. von Hermann, local meteorologist, who states that another general frost will pay the city a visit.

Wednesday's minimum temperature was 44 degrees, the lowest recorded here since May 3. Clear skies will remain the order of the day, Mr. von Hermann thinks, and the high point today is scheduled to be in the neighborhood of 65.

Jacobs' DRUG STORES ALL OVER ATLANTA

Atlanta Ready for Fight For Key Place on Southern Air Mail Route Over U. S.

Plans Initiated for Send- ing Two Mail Planes as Pathfinders Through Heart of South.

Atlanta's fight for a key position on a southern transcontinental air mail route from New York to Los Angeles was initiated Wednesday night when representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the city of Atlanta and the National Aeronautic Association outlined plans to gather complete data on a proposed route to present to the postoffice department in Washington November 25 at a public hearing the department has called for that date.

A route from New York to Atlanta via the existing mail route, to Jacksonville, Montgomery, Ala., to Jackson, Miss., and Shreveport, La., to Fort Worth and from Fort Worth to El Paso, Tucson and Phoenix, Ariz., and San Diego to Los Angeles, was unanimously agreed upon as the shortest, best route and also takes into consideration the most favorable weather and topography for such a mail service.

Pathfinder Trip Planned.

Plans were initiated to send two mail planes from Atlanta to Fort Worth via Montgomery, Jackson and Shreveport as pathfinders through the heart of the south along a route now covered by air mail service. These planes would take off from Candler field immediately after the New York mail plane landed and would carry messages from New York to Fort Worth in the quickest time ever made.

A movement was started to obtain the co-operation of Montgomery, Jackson and Shreveport with Atlanta in making the pathfinder flight a community effort, each city paying its pro rata share of the cost of such a flight and aiding in the gathering of material so that the cities along the proposed line will be in position to present a solid front at the November hearing with the support of all interests in the territory the route would traverse.

Committees were named by Henderson, chairman of the meeting, as follows: Ways and means, Henderson, Hallman, governor of Georgia, N. A. A.; Wiley L. Moore, chairman finance committee, city council; Asa G. Candler, Jr., capitalist; Jesse Draper, president Atlanta chapter, N. A. A.; T. M. Smith, chairman aviation committee, city council; Walter B. Stewart, Fulton county commissioner, and Ellis B. Barrett, former chairman aviation committee, city council; weather, topography and mileage data, Gregory C. Bowen, district manager, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, chairman; co-operation, Fred Shafer, secretary Atlanta Building Owners and Managers Association, chairman; airports, R. S. Barker, executive vice president, Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, chairman; pathfinder flight, N. S. Noble, city editor, The Constitution, chairman.

The hearing will be held at the postoffice department in Washington on November 25 at a public hearing the department has called for that date.

GEORGIA COUNTY ASKS COURT TO OUST SHERIFF

Augusta, Ga., October 23.—(P)—The board of Richmond county commissioners today petitioned the judge of the superior court to declare the office of Sheriff J. T. Plunkett vacant. The action followed reading of an auditor's report alleging there was a shortage in the sheriff's accounts.

The petition also alleged the sheriff is "unfit and disqualified for office by reason of his not having $10,041.13, the alleged shortage, on hand when the auditors investigated his office."

Sheriff Plunkett has served this county for 14 years, and the matter of the alleged shortage has been before the board of commissioners since last June when the auditor's report was made, the commissioners claim the auditor's report showed that from January 1, 1929, up to and including June 18, 1929, the sheriff had collected $11,275.75, but instead of having this sum on hand on June 18, he had only $1,234.62.

This is the first report made public on the auditor's findings as the first petition to the judge was sent back to the commission with a request to be more specific in the charges.

The Richmond county grand jury has investigated and read the report, but will not take any action until October 28.

Bondsmen Indicted.

Miami, Fla., October 23.—(P)—Eight Miami bondsmen and one from West Palm Beach, who have been active in providing bonds in criminal cases in federal court here during the past year, have been indicted by the federal grand jury in Jacksonville, it became known here this morning when they were served with subpoenas.

ACCUSED J. P. GIVES BOND FOR $2,000

Attorney for D. B. Patterson Declares Client Is Innocent.

D. B. Patterson, notary public and ex-officio justice of the peace at College Park, Wednesday made $2,000 bond for his appearance in Fulton superior court to answer charges of blackmail and false arrest under color of legal process in indictments returned Tuesday against Patterson and John F. Page, his constable.

Patterson and Page are charged with arresting persons in order to extort money. Page made $2,000 bond Tuesday night.

In a statement issued Wednesday, Judge W. R. Jones, former solicitor-general of the Georgia circuit, attorney for Patterson, declared that he is confident that Patterson and Page can explain every charge. Judge Jones' statement follows:

"I never thought it proper to try cases in the newspapers but in justice to Judge Patterson I wish to state that I knew him and his family in my home county of Meriwether for years and he has always been recognized as a man of good character.

"I have just checked over the indictments returned by the grand jury Tuesday against him and the constable, and I feel confident that they have never instigated a single charge against anyone for the purpose of collecting costs and have not charged anything more than lawful costs.

"It is true he permitted some petty cases to be settled, but they were those of the Covatta circuit, and settled only on their request, which practice prevails in other courts.

"I do not believe the state will insist on any guilt, when the facts are known."

Freed Prisoner Tells of Theft Of Pen Savings

When Paul S. Jacobs, of Durham, N. C., was released last Saturday from federal prison, where he served a five-year term for violation of the Harrison narcotic act, he was looking for companionship and relief. Some of the people he had just hastily emerged from the building. After a chase of four blocks the officer and Jacobs caught the man on Luckie street near Barlow.

The trio went to headquarters where Jacobs told of circumstances leading up to the chase. An ex-convict, Jacobs had received $50 a month compensation from the government during his stay at federal prison, he told. What to do with the money he had left to his mother, he said, but when he left prison Saturday he had about $500 in his pockets.

Jacobs said he went downtown Saturday night and encountered a former prison mate, Henry Johnson, 22, of a Central avenue address, said to have been released from federal prison November 5, 1928, after doing a two-year stretch for transporting stolen automobiles across a state line. The pair agreed to buy some liquor, Jacobs said, and were in search of it in the neighborhood of West Cain street and Williams, when Johnson slugged him over the head, robbed him of more than $300 and fled.

While in the poolroom on Walton street Wednesday night Jacobs said Johnson walked in and, seeing him, fled.

Johnson, who denied having robbed Jacobs, was turned over to members of Lieutenant T. C. Sturdivant's special plainclothes detail for questioning. He was booked on a blanket charge of suspicion.

LEGINSKA CONCERT PLANS COMPLETED

The zero hour has arrived for all those music lovers of Atlanta who wish to be present at the Western Memorial auditorium Friday night to hear Ethel Leginska and her Boston woman's symphony.

Announcement has been made that there will be no box office sale, and that admission will be by membership Friday night.

Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, vice president of the Civic Music Association, and Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, secretary, will be in the office of the Atlanta Music Club in the Phillips & Crew Piano Company building from 10 to 12:30 o'clock today to give information concerning membership cards and the Leginska concert. No business will be transacted at the auditorium and the club office will not be open Friday. Doors of the auditorium will be closed at 8:20 o'clock; the program will begin at 8:30; and the doors will not be opened again until the first number has been concluded.

The program will include: "The Mastersingers of Nuremberg," Wagner; Symphony No. 3, B. Minor (unfinished), Schubert; Hungarian Fantasy, Liszt. Played and conducted by Ethel Leginska, Two Nursery Rhymes for Orchestra, by Leginska, including Little Boy Blue and Old King Cole; Symphonic Poem, "Les Preludes," Liszt.

Second Baptist Members Formed 12 Churches Here

Twelve leading Baptist churches of Atlanta were established through the missionary efforts of a group of young men of the Atlanta Second Baptist church, it was revealed Wednesday night at the diamond jubilee prayer service at the church, held preparatory to celebration of its seventy-fifth anniversary which opens Friday.

The list of churches which trace their origin back directly to Second Baptist was given by Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, a member of the church for 42 years, in the course of a series of talks, linked with the past for which Dr. E. M. Potat, pastor, asked as a feature of the jubilee prayer service.

Central, Woodward Avenue, Capitol Avenue, Immanuel, Cameron Street, Third, Western Heights and the vast Baptist Tabernacle all branched out of the Second Baptist, in addition to Temple, Glen Street, McDonald and Jones Avenue Baptist churches, which served for varying periods of years until changing methods led to their merging with other churches, Colonel Paxon revealed.

One event of the Diamond Jubilee program, it was announced, will be a recognition of the Second Baptist church service as a "mother of churches" when felicitations are extended on behalf of "daughter churches" at the Atlanta night service Saturday evening.

A score of members of Second Baptist church, some whose affiliation with the church extends over nearly half a century, spoke at the jubilee prayer service. Mrs. M. L. Brittain, wife of the president of Georgia Tech, and John S. Spalding, both of whose fathers served as pastors of the church, Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin and others recalled incidents in the history of the church during the last two score years.

The diamond jubilee celebration will begin with a reception to former pastors and members at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Two of the three living former pastors, Dr. John E. White, now of Savannah, and Dr. Henry Alford Porter, now of Charlotte, N. C., will be special guests and will speak at subsequent services.

Reservations for the jubilee dinner, to be given at 6 o'clock Friday evening, will close at noon today.

WINTER STRIKES HARD THROUGH MIDWEST

First Furious Storms Exact Heavy Toll in Great Lakes Region.

Grand Haven, Mich., October 23.—(P)—The Car Ferry Milwaukee, en route from Milwaukee with 50 men and 27 cars aboard, was reported 25 hours overdue here tonight and grave fears were felt for her safety. Coast guard stations at South Haven, St. Joseph, Grand Haven, Muskegon, Leighton and Manistee made a futile search today for the vessel.

Chicago, October 23.—(United News.)—Winter, in a furious blast of ice, wind and snow, trampled its first destructive path of the year through the middle west tonight.

With heavy snow and sleet storms reported as far south as the Ohio river, where the steamer Greenbrier, taking President Hoover to Louisville, was caught by the storm, the storm wreaked its greatest toll in the Great Lakes region.

Mountainous gray waves lashed before a gale on the inland sea disabled steamer after steamer, imperiled lives, sunk yachts and smashed shore lines so viciously that property damage estimated into the millions was done.

Government cutters returning to Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., late today reported they had been unable to find any trace of the barge Frugality, drifting on Lake Superior with 20 men aboard. Masters of the coast guard vessels believed that the barge had been overwhelmed in the storm wrecked lake.

Ship Smashes.

The steamer N. J. Nesson smashed against a sand bar near Leamington, Ont., when a gale on Lake Erie made her unmanageable. Eight members of her crew, including Alice Humphrey, stewardess, were rescued and six others still aboard were believed to be safe.

A few miles down the buffeted shore was the steel hulled sand boat C. W. Caldwell, sending out distress signals but unreachable by coast guardsmen because of the fury of the elements. The ship last was seen, out of control, scudding before a 48-mile gale.

The 600-foot Robert Hobson was unable to make headway against the surging waves near Indington, Mich., where radio reports said her plates had cracked and her rivets had been sheared off by the thousands of tons of water pounding over her.

Almost a score more boats on the lakes were in less precarious condition and limped into port one by one with harrowing tales of the storm.

Forty-Foot Waves.

Waves, some of them 40 feet high, lashed over breakwaters along the shore lines and did tremendous damage, particularly in Chicago, where the crashing water ruined lakeside parks, smashed piers, sunk boats in harbors, inundated boulevards and threatened buildings on the shore.

Temperatures fell to below freezing while citizens scurried about on slush-covered streets to brave a snowstorm which attained almost blizzard-like proportions at times. The weather bureau predicted that more than an inch of snow would fall before morning.

The low temperatures and snow were reported in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Colorado and Wyoming.

Gales were driving the first wintry storm of the year slowly toward the west, where Pacific coast citizens were wearing summer clothes and using electric fans overtime in a heat wave which caused the mercury there to soar into the 90s. It was the hottest weather this late in the year there since 1917.

Lower Temperature.

Before the storm leaves the middle west, however, the weather bureau predicted that temperatures would sink still further in many places, even down to 10 degrees above zero in the Red river valley of Minnesota.

Deaths attributable to the storm remained few and the nine reported in the middle west were caused principally by accidents to automobiles made unmanageable by slick streets and snow-covered windshields. Two university students were believed to have drowned at Neenah, Wis., when their duck-hunting boat sank on Lake Winnebago.

Air mail service was disrupted and flying generally was in a standstill. Mail planes into Chicago were from one to five hours late and several forced landings were reported.

Traffic and highway travel was not particularly affected by the snow, which melted in most localities as it fell.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY STUDENTS HEAR TALKS BY VISITORS

The class of Carnegie Library school has had lectures during the last few days from several prominent southern librarians who were passing through Atlanta to the meeting of the Southern Library Association at Chapel Hill, N. C.

Miss Essie M. Culver, of the Louisiana library commission, talked to the class on the "Parish Libraries of Louisiana."

Miss Helen V. Stelle, librarian of the Tampa public library, spoke on the "Service of a Public Library to a City."

Miss Elizabeth Robinson, secretary of the Mississippi library commission, talked on "Library Pioneering in Mississippi."

Graduates of the Atlanta Library school go into library work throughout the south and this series of talks by visiting librarians was arranged so as to give the students a knowledge of library conditions in the southern states.

James MacMillan, librarian of the University of Louisiana, also was a visitor at the library and school Wednesday.

COUNTY FINANCES ARE UNDER PROBE OF GRAND JURORS

Fulton county's finances were under consideration of the grand jury Wednesday when that body interviewed members of the county commission and took up the Respass & Respass audit of the county's affairs. It was said that the grand jury examined into the county's finances with a view to making recommendations in their presentments, which will be delivered next week when the jury is discharged from service.

Belgian Princess To Wed Crown Prince of Italy

Brussels, October 23.—(United News.)—The engagement of Princess Marie Jose, daughter of King Albert, to Crown Prince Humbert of Italy—a love match between one of the most beautiful princesses and the most handsome prince in Europe—was announced officially tonight.

Formal announcement of the engagement was made at a reception which Humbert paid to the royal family at noon today, when he formally asked the hand of the beautiful young princess.

The party motored to the royal castle at Laeken, and the engagement, so long awaited, became a certainty.

When Pain Comes
Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion is often merely excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless milk of water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the T. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.—(adv.)

GASTONIA INDICTMENTS LAY MURDER TO NINE

Grand Jury Hears Evidence of Mob Actions When Woman Died.

Gastonia, N. C., October 23.—(AP)—Bills of indictment charging nine men with murder and four others with kidnapping were presented to the Gaston county grand jury today as a result of mob disorders last September in which Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, a textile worker, was slain, and Ben Wells, a National Textile Workers' Union organizer, taken from his lodging place here and flogged.

Numerous witnesses were called before the grand jury and several more were under subpoena to appear before it tomorrow when adjournment was taken late today without action on the bills of indictment.

Charged with murder and conspiracy to murder as a result of Mrs. Wiggins' death on September 14 are Fred Morrow, L. M. Sossamon, Troy Jones, Larry Davis, Will Lunsford, Jack Carver, W. M. Roberts, Horace Wheeler and Theodore Sims. They are alleged to have been present when a mob halted a truck occupied by National Textile Workers' Union members to prevent them attending an advertised communist meeting. Mrs. Wiggins, one of the truck's passengers, was killed by a shot fired when the truck was halted.

In separate bills A. G. Morehead, Carl Holloway, Dewey Carver and Honore Lane, textile mill employees, were charged with kidnapping, false imprisonment and assault in connection with the flogging of Wells.

The union organizer was taken from his lodging place here the night of June 9, carried to a point near Concord, N. C., and beaten. C. M. Lell and C. D. Saylor, union members, were abducted with Wells but were not flogged.

Creation of an ex parte pension plan and a plan of group accident and health insurance protection for approximately 60,000 employees of the Southern Railway system, has been announced by J. E. Mahoney, of Chattanooga, Tenn., chairman of the Southern Railway System Employees' Pension Association, it was announced Wednesday through the Atlanta offices.

The announcement stated, however, that both plans will be abandoned unless favorable responses are received from at least 20,000 workers.

All employees of the Southern and its affiliated companies with a continuous record of two years who are under 70 years of age, are eligible for membership in the pension scheme. The plan provides for the purchase of units of a minimum premium of $2.50 a month. Any employee will be permitted to purchase as many units as he may desire, depending upon the amount of income desired at the time of retirement. It is pointed out, however, that an employee is not required to take out membership.

Employees of the Southern system, regardless of length of service, age, sex, or color, who are at the time of application actively in the service are eligible for membership in the group accident and health plan without a medical examination, provided the application is made within 60 days from November 1, or within 60 days after entering the service of the company.

Carl E. Milliken, former governor of Maine, and secretary of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, was the honor guest at the monthly luncheon meeting Wednesday of the Atlanta Better Films Committee at the Ansley hotel.

In a brief address, Mr. Milliken outlined the research work that has been completed by his organization during the past 10 years. He explained that efforts had been extended to supply the public demand and at the same time place a social uplifting force in movies.

Mr. Milliken said that he plans to devote part of his time in Atlanta to a study of the demands of local film exhibitors.

Others attending the luncheon included Mrs. Myrtle Snell, amusement inspector of Birmingham; Mrs. Percy Chestnut, chairman of the Macon Better Films Committee, and Mrs. Wellington Stevenson, president of the Decatur Better Films Committee. A number of theater managers and representatives from film exchanges also were present.

Mrs. Newton Wing, chairman of the Atlanta organization, presided.

Preliminary plans for the spectacular sham battle and ball to be staged by the 122d Infantry, Georgia National Guard, were mapped out at a meeting of officers Tuesday. The event will be one of the most unique of its kind ever presented to an Atlanta audience and every one of the companies comprising the regiment will be active. The sham battle will begin at 8 o'clock at night on November 27, at the city auditorium. Those in the photograph, left to right, are Major Sion B. Hawkins, regimental staff officer; Captain Harry A. Heinz, of the regimental headquarters company; Colonel Gerald P. O'Keefe, commander of the regiment; Captain Sterling B. Howard, of Company "B," and Captain Elbert P. Senator Tyson Heads Georgia Waterway Group Brunswick, Ga., October 23.—(AP)—State Senator W. S. Tyson, of McIntosh county, author of the bill creating the Georgia waterways and flood commission, today announced that he had been elected chairman of the board of the Georgia Waterway Group, a new organization formed to promote the development of the state's waterways.

The commission went outside its membership in selecting a secretary. R. C. Job, secretary of the Brunswick Board of Trade, being named for the place.

Other than electing officers and appointing a committee to obtain the data required by the commission, no business was heard by the members. The data committee will begin work at once and will report to the commission when it has finished its work.

The waterways and flood commission was created by the last general assembly and its members were appointed by Governor Hardman three weeks ago. A majority of the 12 members were present at the organization meeting today.

Mrs. Pantages is granted stay by trial judge.

Los Angeles, October 23.—(AP)—Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy has decided to postpone indefinitely prosecution of Mrs. Louis Pantages, recently convicted on manslaughter, when she appears for a hearing on her probation petition Friday.

Judge Hardy said today probation officers had not completed investigations of her case and should be allowed sufficient time to make the "most minute search." He pointed out that a delay would give the wife of Alexander Pantages, who is on trial charged with a statutory offense, time for recuperation from a nervous ailment.

Mrs. Pantages was injured in the automobile collision which caused the death of her husband, a Japanese, and collapsed when the jury held her responsible and has been ill since.

ST. LOUIS FLIERS TO TRY ENDURANCE TEST IN FLORIDA

Tampa, Fla., October 23.—(AP)—Randall Norvill, of St. Louis, owner of several airplanes, late today signed a contract with a citizens committee for a refueling endurance flight to begin here next Monday or Tuesday.

Pilots Earl Steiner and R. W. Schrock, St. Louis fliers, will guide the endurance plane, Norvill said. They were due here late today, having spent the night at Montgomery, Ala., on route from St. Louis with two planes. Two other ships are here.

Application has been made to the National Air Association for an observer and sanction for the test. To break the record the plane must be kept in the air more than 17 days.

HONOR SALUTE FOR PRESIDENT ENDS TRAGICALLY

Madison, Ind., October 23.—(AP)—An explosion which occurred while a gun crew of Battery E, 150th Field Artillery, Indiana National Guard, was attempting to fire a salute in honor of President Hoover when his boat docked here today, caused the death of one man and the injury of seven others.

Robert C. Earls, 19, of Madison, a member of the gun crew, died this afternoon at a hospital from burns and injuries. William Stepanaus, Charles Rousch and Charles Hank, three other gunners, are receiving treatment from serious burns. Four others are slightly injured.

The explosion occurred after the sixth shot had been fired. A spark fell in a box containing 50 pounds of powder.

AMERICAN JEWS GRANT SOVIET $9,000,000 LOAN

Moscow, October 23.—(AP)—The American Society of Jewish Farm Settlements in Russia has granted the soviet government a $9,000,000 loan for a period of 17-19 years at 5 per cent. The loan, which will be handled by the Chase National bank, will be issued in 40 quarterly installments of $250,000 each for a period of 40 years beginning in 1929.

Killer Pardoned.

Nashville, Tenn., October 23.—(AP)—Governor Horton today pardoned R. P. McDougal, 31, who was convicted by a Stewart county jury in 1927 of voluntary manslaughter and sentenced to serve from two to three years for the death of Adam Garner. He had served nine months. The jurors who convicted him joined in the recommendation for a pardon.

$250,000 IS ASKED BY MAE MURRAY FOR FOOT INJURY

New York, October 23.—(AP)—Mae Murray, motion picture actress, today filed suit in supreme court for $250,000 damages against the Fox Theater Corporation and three other companies. The actress charged that she injured her left foot when she stepped on some stage properties in an elevator at the Fox theater, in Brooklyn, on December 1, last, impairing her ability as a dancer.

The Flatbush Avenue and Nevins Street Corporation, Peter Clark, Inc., and the William Fox Circuit of Theaters are also named as defendants.

The actress, who is the wife of Prince Midvian, broke a bone in her left foot, and now has to wear wider shoes and lower heels, she said.

Miss Murray, now in California making pictures, will return to New York in December, when the case is expected to be heard, her attorney said.

JUDGE RULES OUT CERTAIN RUM TESTIMONY

Little Rock, Ark., October 23.—(AP)—Testimony of state officers who enter premises without warrants, even though they find intoxicating liquors, is inadmissible in been permitted in district court, Judge Martineau ruled yesterday in the passing of judgment in a case in which the defendant had pleaded guilty.

For several years courts have held that federal agents cannot conduct a search legally without a warrant, but state officers have been permitted to search even though they searched premises without warrants.

The defendant whose case brought up the question was Ned Rose, negro, 72, of Yorktown. An investigation into the circumstances of the arrest will be made before sentence is passed.

COAST-TO-COAST ALL-AIR SERVICE PLANS ANNOUNCED

St. Louis, October 23.—(AP)—Plans for the first all-air coast-to-coast passenger service were announced here today by Dan W. Jones, president of the National Air Corporation.

The service is to be operated between New York and Los Angeles by the Universal and the Western Air Express on a 36-hour schedule. Trial flights are to begin December 15.

The Universal will extend its line from the present terminus at Cleveland to New York. Trial flights will be made for a hop from New York to Kansas City in 11 hours and a flight from Kansas City to Los Angeles in 13 hours. Luncheon will be served in the air from New York to Kansas City, and both luncheon and breakfast will be served from Kansas City to Los Angeles to save time. A night will be spent in Kansas City. Twelve-passenger cabin Fokkers are to be used.

ALCOHOLIC BABY MEDICINE SIRS BAPTIST LEADERS

Jacksonville, Fla., October 23.—(AP)—A baby medicine which is said to contain an amount of alcohol, and was advertised in the official Baptist organ of Florida, brought a lively skirmish to the floor of the Jacksonville Baptist Association here today.

One of the delegates, who asked that all advertisements be excluded from the paper, cited the baby medicine as one of the objectionable features. "It is a well-known fact," he said, "that the medicine contains alcohol."

Mingled expressions of approval and dissent came from the floor and the delegate moved that the price of subscription to the paper be raised so that advertisements could be excluded. The motion lost.

The association, in its report of "present-day evils," deplored the use of profanity among members of the younger generation. One minister said that even young women swear nowadays, especially at football games.

BLEASE SHOWS DOPE CONTAINER ON SENATE FLOOR

Washington, October 23.—(AP)—A container of opium was shown in the senate today by Senator Blease, democrat, South Carolina, as "tangible proof" that "dope" was being sold in Washington.

Other than to say that it was sold "in the shadow of the capitol," Blease did not explain how the opium was obtained. The container was turned over to Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, a physician, for use in an investigation of the Washington police department by the District of Columbia committee of the senate, of which Copeland is a member.

Blease accused Major Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of Washington police, of trying to discredit Captain Robert E. Doyle, of the eighth precinct, and Patrolman Robert J. Allen by demanding a report from them on accusations they were said to have made against the district attorney's office. Both Doyle and Allen were suspended last night by Pratt.

"Pratt is a moral coward," Blease said.

Senator King, democrat, Utah, explaining he had been a member of the district committee for years, said he believed the police department was as efficient as any in the world.

Very Bad Case of Eczema on Face, Arms, Neck, Chest. Cuticura Healed.

"I had a very bad case of weeping eczema. It broke out in pimples on my face, arms, neck and chest and itched so badly that I scratched, causing it to bleed. Scratching caused eruptions and I could not sleep at night on account of the irritation."

"I tried several remedies without relief. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It helped me so I purchased more, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Virgie Hawkins, R. 1, Box

PROPOSED MOTOR BUS ROUTES ARE OPPOSED

Representatives of Short Line Association Appear Before Commission.

Objections to several proposed bus line routes, for which applications have been filed with the Georgia Public Service Commission, were interposed Wednesday by representatives of the Georgia Short-Line Association.

The objections were founded on allegations that the bus lines, paralleling the railroad routes, would result in a decrease of business and consequent loss of revenues.

It was proposed that the railroads would start bus lines themselves if the public preferred that kind of transportation.

It also was averred that some of the applicants were not bona fide, but that they hope to obtain certificates of convenience and necessity, tying up some of the best bus routes in the state, with the intention of disposing of them later for profit.

Aid to Federal Farm Board By State Bureau Is Lauded

William C. Chase, executive vice president of the American Chamber of Agriculture, with headquarters at Atlanta, in a letter written Wednesday to Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, strongly commended the commissioner on the action of the market bureau in volunteering co-operation to the federal farm board.

The offer of co-operation was extended by Judge Max L. McRae and Arthur D. Jones, of the market bureau, in Washington Tuesday, when they visited the federal farm board in company with Senator Harris.

Eugene Talmadge, who was in Quitman Tuesday, stated on his return Wednesday that the offer of co-operation was made in order that Georgia may receive the full benefit of its share of a $500,000,000 appropriation available for the aid of farmers.

Purpose of Offer.
"The real purpose of the offer was to see that the money spent in Georgia is expended to aid genuine dirt farmers, and not for professionals who are exploiting the name. We want to be in a position to offer suggestions as to how the money should be spent, and to co-ordinate the work of the federal farm bureau with our own work," Mr. Talmadge stated.

Judge McRae and Mr. Jones, who returned from Washington Tuesday night, were in conference with Mr. Talmadge Wednesday. They were accompanied on their trip by W. E. French, of Valdosta, general industrial and agricultural agent of the Georgia & Florida railroad.

Mr. Chase commended the action of the market bureau, stating that it gives the seal of state and practical good will and the desire to aid the federal farm board in its work. The more, he said, will receive the full support of the American Chamber of Agriculture and of every citizen.

MARIAN ANDERSON, NEGRO CONTRALTO, LAUDED BY CRITICS

Marian Anderson, who appears at Big Bethel A. M. E. church in recital for the Booker T. Washington High school Friday night, has sung with notable success in leading cities in this country.

Following a recital given in Savannah some time ago, the Savannah Press said: "Marian Anderson, the great contralto of the negro race, was presented in concert last night at the municipal auditorium. For sheer beauty of voice and artistic value, the concert equaled, if not surpassed, anything which has been heard in Savannah in recent years. Her voice is smooth and even in its entire register, and its flexibility is marvelous. Her trills equaled those of coloratura soprano, and her interpretation and diction were flawless."

NEGRESS ARRESTED IN AUTO ACCIDENT; VICTIM BADLY HURT

Thelma Morgan, negress, of 118 Davis street, was being held at police station Wednesday in connection with an automobile accident Monday at West Hunter and Chestnut streets, in which Mrs. L. M. Pyron, of 831 York avenue, S. W., was seriously injured. The prisoner faces charges of reckless driving and deserting her auto after the accident. Plainclothes Officers F. C. Foster and Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant made the arrest.

Mrs. Pyron still was in a serious condition at the Grady hospital Wednesday night.

U. S. ATTORNEY UNFIT FOR JOB, SOLONS SAY

Removal of South Carolina Lawyer Urged by Patronage Probers.

Washington, October 23.—(AP)—The senate patronage committee decided today to call the attention of Attorney General Mitchell to charges that J. D. E. Meyer, federal district attorney at Charleston, S. C., was unfit to hold office.

On motion of Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, a letter was drafted to the attorney-general which said:

"In the opinion of this committee the charges are so serious and the evidence taken, including the evidence of Mr. Meyer himself, is so convincing as to Meyer's unfitness to hold office of district attorney of South Carolina, that we feel we should call it to your attention without delay, so that you can take such action as you may deem appropriate in the premises."

The committee, before drafting the letter, had examined a confidential report of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice in which charges of irregularity and misconduct against Meyer were outlined after an investigation two years ago. The report, Chairman Brookhart said, had been "pigeon-holed" at the department and no action had been taken.

Brookhart obtained the report today from the department. Among the charges mentioned in the report was one that Meyer had associated himself with other parties in the private practice of law and "through this contact extended favoritism to their clients and did not prosecute the clients of his associates."

The report, a voluminous document, adduced a large amount of testimony from persons interrogated by a special investigator. Meyer told the committee he would be glad to answer the charges and a copy of the report will be furnished him.

Meanwhile, the committee adjourned to give Meyer opportunity to study the document.

Ice Makers Plan To Aid Raising Of Georgia Hogs

Albany, Ga., October 23.—(AP)—Plans for encouraging hog-raising and meat-curing on a larger scale than ever before attempted in the state were laid here today by the Georgia Ice Manufacturers' Association, meeting in a one-day convention.

S. S. Dudley, of Albany, delivered the address of welcome to more than 50 visiting delegates, and Dr. W. G. Richardson, of the state college of agriculture at Athens, was the principal speaker of the morning session. He pictured a steadily diminishing hog-raising industry in the state, and the co-operation of the ice manufacturers in support of agricultural programs calling for greater stress on meat production. Dr. Richardson's address was followed by a round-table discussion.

Other speakers of the morning were Walter F. Cox, Atlanta; W. K. Yates, Chicago; John Cumbee, Ocala, and M. H. Goodwin, Thomasville. Following a luncheon at a local hotel, the manufacturers were to hear T. N. Hendricks, Edison; E. S. Talley, Douglas; J. B. Brancioni, of Louisiana State university, Baton Rouge, and C. B. Romberg, Gainesville.

Man Improves After Missing Teeth Found

Knoxville, Tenn., October 23.—(AP) Ralph Cagle, 38, cosmetics salesman, thought he had swallowed his false teeth. He went into convulsions and to a hospital here.

In answer to his screams for help doctors X-rayed successfully his throat, his esophagus, his stomach and finally his entire upper body. No false teeth were located and the convulsions continued.

Mrs. Cagle heard about it and walked into the operating room, bearing the missing teeth. She said her husband had dropped them when seized with a brief illness at home.

The convulsions ceased, and Cagle, re-equipped with a full complement of teeth, departed with his wife.

$50,000 GEMS ARE RETURNED MYSTERIOUSLY

Chicago, October 23.—(AP)—A small pasteboard box wrapped in white paper and containing stolen jewelry valued at $50,000 today was delivered to Mrs. Helen Perky, wife of a Perky, Inc., millionaire, at the hospital where she is recovering from a bullet wound inflicted when the jewels were taken from her.

A nurse said a man had given her the package with instructions to deliver it to Mrs. Perky. She was unable to describe the man satisfactorily. Mrs. Perky and two friends were returning from a race track October 10 when a car containing two men forced their automobile to the curb. The two men demanded her purse which contained the jewelry. As she was slow in complying one of the men apparently became excited and fired, wounding her in the jaw.

FARM AND DAIRY AWARDS AND SALES BRING CITY $1451

The sum of $1,451.00 was paid into city treasury Wednesday by the city's farm and dairy, it was announced at the treasurer's office. The money came from sale of hogs and cows, and prize awards for city entries in the livestock exhibits at the Southeastern Fair. Funds will be used to pay operating expenses of the institution.

State Building League Begins Two-Day Meet

Waycross, Ga., October 23.—(Special)—The Georgia Building and Loan League opened a two-day convention here this afternoon, with Horace Russell, Atlanta, president of the organization, presiding. The address of welcome was delivered by Ralph Newton, superintendent of the Waycross schools, and the response was by Bowen Ragsdale, of Griffin.

Among the speakers today were T. A. Lamar, of Rome; State Examiner J. E. Bodenheimer, of Atlanta; J. T. Tait, of Atlanta; L. N. Shahan, of Rome, and Julius McCurdy, of Decatur. One of the distinguished guests at the convention is George H. Carwell, secretary of the state of Georgia.

The Georgia cities represented at the meeting are Atlanta, Calhoun, Macon, Thomasville, Summerville, Cartersville, Cedartown, Decatur, Dalton, Savannah, Griffin, Gainesville, Brunswick, LeGrange, Jesup, Macon, Monroe, Covington, Newnan, Augusta, Rossville, Winder, Commerce, Elberton, Dublin, Waynesboro, Cairo, Cornelia and Waycross.

Headquarters for the convention is established at the Hotel Ware.

PAINT BUCKET HID SUPPLY OF DRUGS, OFFICER CHARGES

A clever plan of an alleged dope peddler by which he "almost" succeeded in hiding a quantity of morphine was related here Wednesday by P. T. Williams, federal narcotic agent, following the arrest of Joe T. Sheppard. The defendant will be given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith this morning.

It seems that Sheppard had been under observation for several days and that he left his house on Dorn street on several occasions carrying in his right hand a bucket partly filled with white paint. Workmen's clothes completed the picture of the diligent wage-earner but still Williams was suspicious. On the basis of these suspicions, he suddenly confronted Sheppard Wednesday afternoon and searched without loss of time.

Search of the paint bucket revealed a quantity of dope, it was stated. Wrapped in paper, the morphine had been held in the right hand and released to seeming oblivion when the occasion demanded. This, at least, is Williams' opinion. A search of Sheppard's house revealed $200 worth of dope in addition, it is charged.

CHINESE POLICE CONDUCT RAID ON SOVIET OFFICES

Tokyo, October 23.—(AP)—Harbin dispatches to the Japanese News Agency Renzo state that Chinese police raided the soviet consulate offices there today and carried off three Russians found in the building.

The consulate ostensibly has been closed since the departure of the Russian consul general, M. Melnikoff, several months ago at the time of the break over the question of the Chinese Eastern railway. The building has been under the protection of the German consul who is expected to protest strongly.

Less than half of the area of the United States has been topographically surveyed.

McGlaw - Bowen Building Sold Second Time in Week; $150,000 Paid for Property

Franklin Securities Company Purchases Downtown Structure From Central Properties, Inc.

The sale, twice within the past week, of the McGlaw-Bowen building, 11-story office structure in the main business district, was seen Wednesday as a high light in the rapidly mounting revival of local real estate activity. In the latest transaction, reported Wednesday, the Franklin Securities Company, headed by Bayne Gibson, purchased the important 14-story estate for consideration in excess of $150,000 in cash and exchange of properties from the Central Properties, Inc.

At the same time report of the sale of the property from the Carolina Life Insurance Company to the Central Properties, Inc., was made known. The purchase price involved in this deal was given as $120,000. The McGlaw-Bowen building is located on the southeast corner of Luckie and Fairlie streets. It was erected in 1922 as a Miller bond financed structure, the original bond issue being $120,000. The project was based on a 50-year leasehold of the site from M. B. Wellborn. The site measures 100 feet on Fairlie and 36 1/2 feet on Luckie street.

High Turnover Rate.

Catarrh Is Most Common Cause of Head Colds

Find a man, woman or child who is afflicted with catarrh of the nose and its connecting air passages and you will always find a patient who is most susceptible to more serious diseases. Why? Science explains that catarrh interferes with natural breathing, thus preventing proper purification of the blood by the lungs and also prevents refreshing sleep. Catarrh is a constant drain upon the nutrition of the body, making the patient weak and thereby susceptible to diseases such as head and chest colds. Your physician will tell you that catarrh is a local condition, not a systemic disease. You must fight it constantly with a local remedy that reaches the spot. Of the many remedies that have been tested by Nose and Throat Specialists to relieve the irritation and reduce the congestion of the mucous membrane the most effective and agreeable are those contained in the preparation known to your druggist as Runyon's "White Wonder Salve." Applied in the nostrils, morning and night, Runyon's "White Wonder Salve" gives quick and most delightful relief from the irritation and congestion. Clean, greaseless and absolutely stainless, Runyon's Salve is a perfect example of the finest pharmaceutical art—a joy and comfort to everyone who suffers with catarrh of the nose and throat.

a high rate of turnover and notable recovery and enhancement of the improved parcel since the failure of the bonding company. The unpaid bond site was purchased by Mr. Wellborn in 1922 for $52,225. On April 1 this year the leasehold estate in the improved corner was sold to the Carolina Life Insurance Company for $96,000 through Keenan & Chambers, Jack Chambers and Walter Keenan resold the property for the insurance company to the Central Properties, Inc., in the transaction consummated a few days ago. The consideration was $126,000.

In the latest transaction, handled by Perry Adair, the Franklin Securities Company acquired the office building leasehold, paying $100,000 in cash in addition to 10 parcels of property, said to be worth well in excess of $50,000. The parcels involved are 948 Curran street, 615 West Howard street, 1331 Adair street, 35 Roanoke street, 1331 Harder street, 32 Sixteenth street, 1192 Piedmont avenue, two lots on Argonne avenue and a lot on Fern street.

Real Estate Activity.
The double transaction was the feature of a large volume of recent real estate activity and was viewed by members of the real estate market as indications of prosperous market conditions for the approaching season. The large construction activity was cited as another indication pointing toward rapid gains in a statement given out by C. J. Bowen, building inspector, to members of the Atlanta Real Estate Board Wednesday. Mr. Bowen said he had never seen as large a volume of substantial building in Atlanta before.

"I expect to see these big operations followed by many smaller projects," he declared. "They usually follow the major developments. They may be expected around the first of the year."

Board officials were impressed with the fact that the building projects listed above are all substantial. Not one is speculative in character, or experimental.

Committee to Meet.
Anticipating that there would be a revival of interest in real estate, the real estate board appointed a general committee of its members three months ago to make provisions in a general way for better business. That committee will report on Thursday evening at a dinner at 6:30 o'clock at the Athletic Club which will be attended by the officers and directors of the board.

Chairman Named.
Earle R. Greene was made chairman of the residential committee, and J. T. Hollman of the farm land committee.

On Thursday evening Mr. Otis will make a report to the officers and directors on the findings of the general committee, and the chairman of the subcommittees will make their reports.

Interracial Group Asks Board Probe Of Augusta Charges

Augusta, Ga., October 23.—(Special.)—Disturbed by reports of inconsiderate treatment of negroes at the hands of local police, a delegation of prominent citizens, representing the Augusta interracial committee, has waited upon the civil service board, laid a number of cases before the board and requested that the conditions be corrected.

Members of the board assured the committee that it would take immediate steps to the desired end and would make every effort possible to prevent future injustices. The delegation was composed of John Sylvester, John Phinizy, Rev. F. E. Smith, W. H. Fleming and Rev. H. A. Barber.

At the close of the World War after receiving his discharge from the army, he became connected with the Citizens Bank and Trust Company, of Waynesville, and later was made vice president.

Upon moving to Atlanta, about five years ago, he entered the organization of Foote & Davies and was with that firm until recently. His activity in civic work has been recognized by his election as president of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In his present position with Blyth & Co., Mr. Woody offers his services and the comprehensive facilities of his house to investors or traders who desire to buy or sell securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange or other exchanges.

NAVY DAY OBSERVANCE TO START FRIDAY NOON

Atlanta's observance of Navy Day will start Friday noon, when the program at the American Legion luncheon at the Henry Grady hotel will be devoted to the navy. Commander H. Jones, U. S. N., professor of naval science and tactics at Georgia Tech, will be the principal speaker at the American Legion luncheon.

There will be an entertainment program at the luncheon, the numbers including selections by Perry Bechtel, banjoist, and his Four Colonels' selections by Miss Florence Collins, violinist, and by Miss Ruth Cathey and the Cathey Troubadours.

On Saturday night the naval reserve units of Atlanta will observe Navy Day at a banquet at the Georgian Terrace hotel, where a special program is being arranged for them. The unit is under the command of Lieutenant Harry F. Dobbs, U. S. N. R. There will be music by the Naval Reserve orchestra and some specialty dances by Miss Paul DeVoll and her partner.

October 27 originally was set aside as Navy Day, but since the date fell on Sunday the program will be observed on Monday, October 27 is the anniversary of the birth of President Theodore Roosevelt. Six navy planes from the naval station at Pensacola will fly to Atlanta on Sunday and will circle the city in maneuvers. There will be eight officers and one mechanic in the group. One of the officers will be Lieutenant William V. Davis, U. S. N., who was navigator for Art Goebel during the famous trans-Pacific flight for the Dole trophy.

Monday's program will open with a meeting of the Atlanta Chapter, National Aeronautic Association, at which Admiral N. A. McCully, U. S. N., commandant of the sixth naval district, and Lieutenant Davis will be guests of honor.

A banquet will be served at 7 o'clock at the Atlanta Athletic Club in honor of Admiral McCully, who is to speak at the banquet and also over WSB later in the evening. All naval officers and naval reserve officers in Atlanta will be present at this dinner.

At 10 o'clock Monday night Admiral McCully will speak over WSB on a topic relating to the navy. Included in the radio program is a series of selections by the 224 Infantry band from Columbia, S. C., coming to Atlanta especially for the occasion. There will also be selections by the Naval Reserve orchestra of Atlanta and it is expected that Lieutenant Davis, of Pensacola, will speak at this time.

ADAIR HOTEL OFFER BY COLLIER ACCEPTED

Acceptance of the offer of Barron Collier for the purchase of seven Florida hotels formerly financed by Adair Company bonds was approved Wednesday by Judge S. M. Sibley, substituted for two changes. These were that Mr. Collier shall not have the privilege of substituting 85 per cent of the cash value of his new bonds in place of the bonds themselves and that he shall personally guarantee the interest on the new bonds for a period of two years.

His offer, which was made to the Adair bondholders' protective committee, headed by Judge Shepard Bryan, includes a refinancing plan by which $3,124,497 in new bonds will be issued, $250,000 in cash put up to clear titles and defray expenses of counsel, and $30,315 in 1929 taxes will be paid by the purchaser.

Of the $4,422,812 in Adair bonds outstanding, $2,657,600 worth are held by the bondholders' committee, $1,533,600 by the Globe Indemnity Company and the remaining $250,800 by individuals.

TURNER TRIAL OPENS IN SUPERIOR COURT

Former City Electrician Is Charged With Embezzlement.

R. C. Turner, former city electrician, went on trial Wednesday in Judge John D. Humphries' division of Fulton superior court on a charge of embezzlement from the city of Atlanta in connection with installation of traffic signal lights.

Turner is under indictment jointly with Sam Donelson, electrician contractor, but the state elected to sever the two defendants in trying the case. The jury to try Turner was selected after Judge Humphries overruled a demurrer offered by attorneys for Donelson on the ground that the alleged offense did not constitute embezzlement.

The state charges that Turner and Donelson entered into a conspiracy to defraud the city with false claims for work by Donelson. The indictments were returned some months after Turner had been succeeded as electrician by P. H. Hendricks.

Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens and J. Walter LeCraw are being aided in the prosecution by Jack Savage, assistant city attorney, and Don K. Johnston, attorneys for the defense are Reuben R. and Lowry Arnold, Walter C. Hendrix and W. F. Buchanan.

"Missionary" Work Seen Before Laying Issue Before Bar Association.

BY J. H. STREET,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Memphis, Tenn., October 23.—(AP) Prohibition, placed on the front door step of the American Bar Association by the wet wing of the organization, probably will remain there for another year at least under care of its nurse, the Voluntary Committee of Lawyers, Inc. Leaders of the committee said today the association was not yet ready to vote on repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the anti-Volstead organization, which led successful fights before the bars of New York city, Boston and Philadelphia, and will do missionary work in the south and west before making a concerted campaign in the general association.

The committee established headquarters here and its members were getting expressions from the lawyers of the general association. Cards signifying disapproval of the amendment were being signed by members of the bar in large numbers. It was stated, and while prohibition is not on the records of the general association it is on the tongue of a majority of the members.

How Germany, its palaces empty, its armies defeated, swayed between bolshevism and a limited democracy in the dark night after the war, and found strength in its judiciary was described tonight by Dr. Walter Simmons, retired chief justice of the supreme court of Germany, former Prussian premier and minister of foreign affairs, and acting president of the German republic until the election of President Von Hindenburg.

Gurney E. Newlin, president of the association, pledged the bar to protect the public against "unlawful enforcement of the law, to wipe out a serious blot upon the administration of justice and to restore the constitutional rights of the people."

In his annual address today he sent a message to the white house with the cheering approval of the lawyers in the statement that the bar would back President Hoover in grappling with "the alarming disobedience of law, the abuses of law enforcement and the growth of organized crime."

He advocated universal compulsory jury service and termed the modern jury trial "a sorry exhibition of what is supposed to be the best practical mode of justice yet devised by men."

Walter Armstrong, Memphis, was elected the Tennessee representative on the general council of the association today. Thomas J. Tyne, Nashville, was elected state vice president. Members of the council were elected from every state, the District of Columbia and all the territorial possessions. Among those selected are: S. H. Mann, Forrest City, Ark.; A. W. Shands, Cleveland, Miss.; E. W. Cabanis, Birmingham; Scott M. Loftin, Jacksonville, Fla.; George M. Napier, Atlanta; George Terriberry, New Orleans; and Richard H. Hill, Louisville.

WOMAN WHO SAVED
THREE FROM GAS IS RECUPERATING

The condition of Miss Lollie Mayes, 267 Georgia avenue, S. W., who saved three women from gas asphyxiation at the Harper Hat Manufacturing Company, at 137 South Pryor street, was reported to be much improved Wednesday night by Grady hospital attaches.

Ten women, all employees of the company, were overcome by gas fumes that had leaked from a jet in the room shortly before noon Wednesday. Officials of the hat factory said that the gas was connected with the building for use in seven hydraulic hat presses and that the leak was so slow it was not noticed until several women had fainted.

The workers were seated at benches in the assembling room on the fourth floor of the building when Miss Theilma Phillips, 18, of Forrest Park, became faint and fell to the floor. Before her companions could reach her, two others slid from their seats. A half dozen more fainted before others rushed to windows and threw them open.

Ambulances were summoned and surgeons began reviving the victims with pulmotors. Nine of the victims were revived without trouble and sent home.

Ambulance surgeons said that Miss Mayes went back into the gas-filled building three times after she had fainted once herself. Finally she collapsed in the entrance of the building and was rushed to the hospital.

Robert B. Harrison,
Pioneer Newspaperman,
To Leave Atlanta Nov. 1

Robert Bryan Harrison, venerable member of a prominent Georgia family and a pioneer former newspaperman in this section, will spend much of his time during the remaining month in bidding farewell to his many Atlanta friends, some of whom he has known for more than half a century.

On November 1 he will leave to make his permanent home in Chicago with his son, R. E. Harrison.

In Chicago Mr. Harrison will continue his activities as director of a health school, having founded and directed the Open Door Health school here for many years. At a farewell program to be given in honor of the departing leader, the new officers of the Open Door who will succeed Mr. Harrison, will be introduced by him.

Mrs. Rose M. Davis is the new teacher and Mrs. G. G. Shipp secretary. The departure ceremony will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the assembly room of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce building. J. Gordon Moore will direct the musical program.

Mr. Harrison became associated with The Constitution staff in 1903 and during his connection on the paper was a co-worker with Henry Grady, Joel Chandler Harris, Frank Stanton and other famous journalists. He held the offices of superintendent of the weekly and state news editor while with the paper for five or six years. Upon leaving The Constitution, he organized the Southern Press Bureau.

Atlanta Business Unhurt By Stock Market Break, Local Bankers Declare

Leaders Say That Local Financial Institutions Were Found Prepared for Collapse in Prices.

The apparent collapse of the stock market and its consequent reflection on cotton and grain prices will have little or no effect on general business conditions here or elsewhere, Atlanta bankers and market observers pointed out Wednesday night.

"The market 'break' was long expected and found well-governed official institutions prepared for it, the bankers asserted, declaring the tremendous losses in quoted values through Tuesday's trading in New York merely would result in a general liquidation, which, aided by assistance from thoroughly sound financial institutions would be brought about in an orderly manner.

Financial leaders here merely reiterated statements previously made, months ago, that stock prices were entirely too high and a general recession was inevitable.

"We have long been expecting the market break," T. K. Glenn, president of the Atlanta and Lowery National bank, said. "Men versed in the ways of finance have known that it was coming. The quoted values of stocks were far in excess of their actual values, and all along we have warned against speculation on issues that apparently were chiefly speculative."

Reports Reassuring.

Mr. Glenn said that reports reaching from the city's trade territory were more reassuring than they have been in weeks.

"Of course many of our local people who have refused to heed the warning undoubtedly have lost heavily in the fall of market prices," he said. "But then they are those who previously have made paper profits which probably exceed their losses. Then, too, there are hundreds here who did not get in on the ground floor of the rise and they will be hard hit. But to my knowledge the really careful speculators are few and the losses between here and I do not think the losses will amount to much."

Mr. Glenn pointed out that mercantile trade, wholesale and retail, was in excellent shape, that the city's leading stores were doing an excellent business and that the city's paper profits on stocks probably would not detract one dollar from the sales of a retail store.

R. Byron G. Clay, president of the First National bank, said he did not think the market collapse would make the slightest bit of difference in trade here.

"Of course there are many persons who will get excited when they read of the break," Mr. Clay said. "But they are the alarmists who get unduly excited when stocks take a paper rise. When they go up it does not help our trade any and it certainly will not when they fall."

Further reassuring expressions came from local brokerage houses, some of whom felt the market would recover most of its losses when operators of the rise obtained hold of the situation.

S. C. Dobbs, Jr., manager of the Atlanta office of Jackson Bros., Bassett & Company, declared that the market would be righted when the big financiers of the nation saw that it would be detrimental to the country's good to permit a further slide in prices.

"Discriminating investors will be busy looking for bargains and there is no doubt but that the market is moving upward again," he said. "Of course no one can tell how much the prices will rebound, but we all feel certain that the present speculative operations will not continue."

BUSINESS UNHARMED BY MARKET PLUNGE

contradictory than is warranted by changes in business outlook.

"Obviously the business outlook has undergone no such change in a few days as indicated by the drop in stock market averages. It seems to have been generally recognized that speculators had advanced many issues to a price beyond that warranted by equities or earnings."

Robert W. Woodruff, president of White Motor Company as well as the Coca-Cola Company, said "Business in the best condition it has been for several years past and indications lead us to the conclusion that this situation will continue. The stock market seems to represent overconfidence in a few lines which is probably correcting itself. The correcting may be overdone."

A. P. Giannini, Bank of Italy—"Conditions throughout the nation are actually all right. What we have witnessed in stock market reaction is not a reflection of business tendencies. From time to time we have experienced similar recessions and they are prepared for these contingencies. Declines of this nature may be expected especially when there has been an extraordinary increase in the prices of many securities."

William C. Potter, President, Guaranty Trust Company of New York—"I do not believe that the recent decline in stock exchange prices reflects a close relationship to actual business conditions. Although there have been declines, partially certain basic industries, particularly steel, have been level of business activity still appears to be somewhat larger than a year ago."

Natural Readjustment.

"General business had been moving at such a pace during the first three quarters of the year that some readjustment was natural, but this does not seem to indicate a period of depression. The break in the stock market seems to have been caused largely by conditions inherent in the market situation itself rather than by business."

Louis F. Swift, President, Swift & Company, Packers—"In my opinion the decline in stocks will have no effect on the fundamental soundness of business."

John B. Miller, Southern California Edison Company—"Conditions in the electric light and power industry, not only in California but throughout the nation, were never better. General business conditions in California are very good and are reported to be so nationally. I can see no relation between the decline in stock exchange prices of public utilities and the fine business conditions in which those utilities find themselves."

James Simpson, President, Marshall Field & Co., Chicago—"In my opinion the present liquidation in the stock market is not due nor does it reflect the general business conditions throughout the country."

Conditions Sound.

"I believe basic business conditions are sound and that production and consumption of goods in most lines have been fairly well balanced. Beyond this there appears to be no evidence of speculation in commodities such as that which occurred in 1920."

"The average yield on common stocks for the past year has been substantially less than the interest charged for speculative loans, and such a situation inevitably leads to an adjustment in the long run. Prices of securities must be determined by their yield and earnings on an investment basis, rather than by purely speculative demand, which in my opinion, has for many months past been the dominating influence."

"Unless this readjustment of stock prices takes place, the market will be unhelpful to the business situation in the long run rather than hurtful."

P. J. Leeman, general manager, First Bank Stock Corporation, Minneapolis—"In my opinion the stock market is not affected in the slightest by business conditions in the ninth federal reserve district. Business here is even better than normal in all lines. Strong demand for money is due to disposition of farmers generally to hold grain for better prices. I cannot see anything in the immediate future to materially affect any line of business in this territory."

Looked for Correction.

J. F. Sartori, president of Security First National bank, Los Angeles—"I have for some time feared that stock prices were higher than earnings warranted, and that sooner or later this situation would have to be corrected."

"I believe high stock prices and high interest rates have had an unfavorable effect at least upon certain lines of business. Though business as a whole has continued prosperous when judged by normal standards."

"If the break in stocks is not merely a reaction but a correction, it would lead to a point justified by previous standards of the relation of stock prices to present and justifiably anticipated future earnings. Business will be further affected unfavorably."

"If the present break in stock prices goes no further, business held at lower levels, business may continue good."

Rudolph Streche, president, Stroh's Sugar Company—"Nothing unusual has occurred during this year, so far as I am informed, to disturb the soundness of our business or financial structure. We must therefore look to other causes for the present persistent decline of stock exchange stock prices."

"We hear a great deal about the activities of bull and bear groups operating on the stock exchange. Whenever stock prices rise, the bull operators reap large profits by liquidating holdings. The public generally buys stocks on a rising market on margin, and the stock market is a high figure the bears know that by selling great blocks of stock prices generally go down and call for margins. A situation which will force widespread public selling."

"Consequently, further price declines are inevitable."

Arthur B. Fosbury, public utilities leader and president of the Foshay Company, Minneapolis—"Actual business conditions or earnings of securities would not warrant the stock prices at which securities have been selling in our opinion."

"Through pool operations and manipulation, the stock market has been used to manipulate the market up and down for their own profit. It is our belief that such manipulation, which is a high figure the bears know that by selling great blocks of stock prices generally go down and call for margins. A situation which will force widespread public selling."

"The present decline of stock exchange prices may be just another opportunity for profits for the manipulators, or it may be a reflection of the situation on the part of the public in any event."

"We don't feel that business conditions have anything to do with the stock market situation."

No Business Indicator.

Sidney R. Kent, general manager Paramount Famous-Lasky Corporation—"I do not believe the present decline of stock exchange prices reflects condition of business in the country any more than extremely high prices prevailing before the fall were a proper basis to go by."

"Many of the stocks have been in advance and ahead of the nation's average prosperity, and when the pendulum swings back it goes to extremes the same as when the market goes up."

"I believe that the nation's business, analyzed, is sound and healthy, except in a few lines."

"But do not look upon stock prices as being an accurate barometer as to what is going on except in certain specific stocks. The middle ground between the extreme high prices and present low prices would, in my opinion, come nearer to reflecting the average of the country's condition."

Robert Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship Company, San Francisco—"I cannot believe that the wild speculations in Wall Street can affect the general business of the country except to cause fearer or cheaper money. Those of us engaged in shipping have our finger on the pulse of the country, for whenever there is a fluctuation we feel it in our business possibly more so than any other."

Lewis H. Brown, president John-Manville Corporation—"I know nothing about the stock market. However, I have just returned from a 9,000-

Has No Influence.

W. H. Albers, president Kroger Grocery & Baking Co.—"Business conditions are sound and good, so could have had no possible influence in recent stock declines."

R. G. Dahlberg, manufacturer and capitalist—"It is my judgment that the general basic prosperity of this country, resulting in the people having large aggregate amounts of surplus money, led to general buying of securities with the effect that stocks of many companies may have been advanced beyond their present or immediately prospective earnings value."

"This created a condition that necessarily sooner or later would have to correct itself, because in the final analysis it is earnings and intrinsic value that maintain stocks at long pull value."

Gamblers Must Pay.

"Having in this way outstripped themselves a correction was inevitably necessary and entirely wholesome. In addition thereto it was but natural that with money and credits available to them a great many people, seeing stock prices going sharply up, would fool themselves into the belief that they could make fortunes overnight by employing their money in stock gambling rather than by putting it in sound basic investments."

"This, of course, had to come to an end, as all gambling booms in the history of the world have come to an end, with the result that prices have been and are adjusting themselves to more nearly proper levels."

"I do not think this recent break has anything to do with general business conditions throughout the country, which are excellent and likely to continue so long as the money market is checked off by too costly money."

Edward G. Seibert, president, Standard Oil Company of Indiana—"In so far as our business is concerned we see no reason for pessimism, and by reason of the fact that

$95,000 SUGAR LOBBY CAMPAIGN DESCRIBED

Probers Told Propaganda at Washington Is Necessity of Business.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, October 23.—(AP)—De- tailing a $95,000 campaign against an increase in the sugar tariff, H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Com- pany of New York City, told the senate lobby investigating committee today that he considered lobbying a necessity for the business world.

Quick with his answers and opinions, Lakin's frankness surprised the senate inquirers by surprise. He said his work for Cuban sugar producers against an increase in the sugar duty had been "distasteful" but he was "afraid" his business interests and those of his associates would not have been protected if he had not been here.

"So the business world has come to the conclusion," inquired Chairman Caraway, "that it must have lobbyists down here?"

Lobby Necessary.

"I am sorry to say it, but ten months' experience down here has convinced me that it must," replied Lakin.

The house increased the tariff on Cuban sugar importations from 1.76 cents a pound to 2.40. The senate finance committee has reduced this to 2.20. The senate has not yet voted on it.

Lakin said 11 groups had contributed the $95,000 fund, including about 90 per cent of the Cuban sugar producers and ten Americans or American concerns. He said the Cuban government wanted to contribute, but he told them it would be improper. President Machado, he said, induced Enoch Crowder, former American ambassador to Cuba, to assist in the Washington campaign against the sugar tariff increase. He did not know whether Crowder was paid, but expressed an opinion that it was "for old time's sake" by Crowder for Machado.

Of the $95,000 fund, $75,000 has been spent so far, $24,000 going to "propaganda" disseminated through a publicity bureau in charge of Mrs. Gladys Moon Jones. Lakin named about 14 members of the house and 12 senators upon whom he called, but said the conversations with them had been negligible. He offered to supply them information on the sugar controversy.

Secret Information.

Earlier in the day the committee was told by Joseph E. E. Waichert, of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association, that he could not recall where or how he got information about the secret tariff rate-making sessions of the senate finance committee. Waichert remembered writing an office memorandum, produced by Senator Walsh, in which he said he understood the National City Bank of New York City is interested in the United Fruit Company, Czarnecki-Rondani, Hershey Company, the Cuba America Company and the Cuba Company, of which he is president.

Lakin named among those who were interested in the $95,000 sugar tariff campaign General Sugars, Inc., in which he said he understood the National City Bank of New York City is interested; the United Fruit Company, Czarnecki-Rondani, Hershey Company, the Cuba America Company and the Cuba Company, of which he is president.

Waichert, who was "loaned" to work for Senator Bingham, was not the only person who could have supplied him the information. Waichert said he believed he was the only one, but he did not recall how he received the data. All of the committee members examined him closely, but he held to his story.

Shot in Mouth, Man Swallows Bullet, Lives

Chicago, October 23.—(AP)—Ben Friedman was shot in the face, lost three teeth, swallowed the bullet, and didn't even suffer indigestion.

Things like that happen, but are hard to believe. Friedman, however, had evidence. The teeth were gone, the bullet was in his stomach, Iroquois hospital attaches said.

Friedman, 42 years old, was stepping out of a West Madison street restaurant last night. A man rushed at him, pushed a pistol into Friedman's face and pulled the trigger.

Then the fellow ran away and never did get caught.

Friedman yelled, the ambulance arrived, he was taken to the hospital. Doctors began looking for the bullet, and finally found it in Friedman's stomach. The bullet had taken three teeth from Friedman's lower jaw and then, its force spent, had gone harmlessly—the doctors said—down the Friedman esophagus when Friedman, quite naturally in view of everything, gulped.

BRITISHER DENIES ATTEMPTING LIFE OF U. S. TEACHER

London, October 23.—(AP)—Ronald Bateman, charged with an attempt to murder Philip Eaton, American school teacher on August 12, today pleaded not guilty on his appearance for trial in the Old Bailey. James A'ore, who is accused of receiving clothes belonging to Eaton, also pleaded not guilty.

The prosecution detailed the events of the night of August 12, when Eaton, who is a school master in South-bore, Mass., and was traveling in Eng- land, was found seriously injured in his Macfair flat.

Eaton, giving evidence, said that a ring moments of consciousness he saw a man going through his trunk and getting some clothes. He was unable to identify him in court as the man who attacked him.

Cross examined by Bateman's at- torney, Eaton said he had no particu- lar reason for leaving the flat on the night of August 12. He thought that Bateman spoke to him first on the street and that later three-quarters of a bottle of whisky was consumed in his flat. He denied the attorney's suggestion that he was struck in the face after acting improperly toward Bateman.

Miss Mion Weds Leake Fain, Jr., at St. Luke's Church

The marriage of Miss Catherine Mion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mion, to Leake Fain, Jr., was solemnized at noon yesterday at St. Luke's Episcopal church, Rev. N. R. High Moor officiating. The altar presented an artistic arrangement of cathedral candelabra, alternating with tall pedestals filled with white chrysanthemums.

Miss Georgia Mion acted as maid of honor and was her sister's only attendant. She wore a gown of black transparent velvet, trimmed with white satin and real lace. Her hat was a small model of black felt and she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and roses. Jack Fain acted as his brother's best man.

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her exquisite blonde coloring was accentuated by her modish costume of brown transparent velvet, fashioned princess style.

Her hat was a model of felt to match. She carried a bouquet of brown orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Mion, mother of the bride, was crowned in black transparent velvet trimmed with real lace, and worn with black felt hat. Her shoulder bouquet was of orchids. Mrs. Leake Fain, mother of the groom, wore a black transparent velvet trimmed with real lace collar and cuffs, and a hat of black solid felt. Her shoulder bouquet was of orchids and valley lilies.

Mr. Fain and his bride left for a motor trip to Washington and New York. The bride traveled in a sport ensemble of green tweed, with felt hat to match. Upon their return, Mr. Fain and his bride will take possession of their apartment at 633 North Moreland avenue.

Green-Hicks Wedding Is First Event Taking Place in Jackson Hill Church

The marriage of Miss Eva Mae Green, daughter of Mrs. Amanda Green, to Mack Griffin Hicks, of Atlanta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hicks, of Baxley, was beautifully solemnized last evening at the Jackson Hill Baptist church. The Rev. Ronald C. Young, pastor of the church, performed the impressive ring ceremony in the presence of a representative gathering of relatives and friends. A note of interest was added to the wedding through the fact that it was the first to take place in the handsome new church since its erection.

The luxuriant greenery of the altar formed a picturesque background against which stood three large baskets of white chrysanthemums interspersed with seven-branched cathedral candelabra holding burning tapers. The central aisle of the church was marked at intervals by French candelabra which cast a soft glow in the path of the bridal party. Southern smilax was used in decoration throughout the church. Pews reserved for members of the two families were marked by streamers of white satin ribbon.

The Musical Program.
Miss Lucyle Johnson, organist, and Mrs. E. Floyd Johnson, soloist, rendered an appropriate program of nuptial music. Mrs. Johnson sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Because," while Miss Johnson sustained a soft accompaniment to the marriage ceremony with the strains of "Trauermusik." The wedding march from Lohengrin was used as the processional and Mendelssohn's bridal chorus as the recessional.

The bridesmaids, Miss Edith Camp and Mrs. Agnes Strain, and the groomsmen, Leon C. Deck and Bradford Hambrick, entered simultaneously approaching the altar from opposite sides. Miss Grace Green, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. The bride's attendants wore gowns of tulle fashioned with sleeveless basque waists and full skirts of graceful uneven hemline. Effective tulle bows at the back of the gowns added a note of distinction to the lovely models. Miss Camp was crowned in rose colored tulle, the facing of the skirt and the tulle bow being Nile green. Mrs. Strain wore Nile green offset with the contrasting shade of rose. Miss Green was crowned in yellow. They carried magnificent bouquets of Columbia roses tied with streamers of white satin ribbon.

The lovely bride, who entered with her brother, Judge Aaron Green, by whom she was given in marriage, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, J. Walter Weaver. She wore a becoming gown of ivory white satin fashioned with basque waist featuring a V yoke of real lace and graceful skirt of uneven hemline shirred at the waist beneath the basque which was effectively pointed at the sides. The bride's real lace veil was caught to her head beneath a bandeau of orange blossoms across the front of her head. She carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley tied with streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Gertrude Livingston kept the bride's train at the church. Mrs. Green, mother of the bride, wore a model of dark blue georgette fashioned over dark blue satin. A shoulder bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks left for a wedding trip through the north. The bride traveled in an ensemble of dark green velvet with a close-fitting felt hat to match. Upon their return they will make their home at 990 Greenwood avenue, N. E.

Miss Helen Smith Is Entertained.
Miss Sarah Zink entertained yesterday at a kitchen shower at her home on Capitol avenue, in honor of Miss Helen Smith, a bride-elect, who will be married to William D. Zink in the Immaculate Conception church Friday morning, November 1, at 10 o'clock. Miss Zink was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. A. R. The end of a shiny nose!

How much mileage do you get from a powder-puff? How frequently do you fill your vanity case? How often do you stare into store windows to see if your nose is shiny?

Armand Cold Cream Powder is the surest, easiest way to end shine. A cold cream base makes it cling close to your skin for hours and hours. Amazingly fine and smooth, it blends perfectly. Rub it into your puff thoroughly before applying. Then you can face the world with confidence—and a clear complexion! $1 at your dealer's. Miss Ida Mary Engelhart Weds Mr. Holliday at Sacred Heart

Social interest centers in the marriage of Miss Ida Mary Engelhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Engelhart, and Edward Rossney Holliday, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Holliday, which was solemnized yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in Sacred Heart church. The Rev. Father M. A. Cotter performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Preceding the entrance of the bride party Mrs. Ernest Trotti rendered an appropriate program of nuptial music, accompanied on the organ by Vincent Hurley, organist of the church.

Church Decorations. The church was artistically decorated with quantities of palms, ferns and graceful foliage plants interspersed with baskets of white dahlias. The altar was covered with a handsome lace cloth and placed on each side was a gold vase filled with white flowers. White tapers in gold candlesticks gave a touch of beauty to the decorations.

The matron of honor, the bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph Cronk, wore a fashionable gown of tan flat crepe, fashioned along straight lines, draped on each side and being finished at the neck and sleeves with narrow edging of cream lace. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and blue delphiniums and her brown felt hat matched her gown.

Lovely Bride. The lovely bride entered the church with her father, Mr. Engelhart, by whom she was given in marriage, and

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief is astonishing. Any druggist can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. It keeps perfectly and tastes like children's really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more beneficial in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Two Prominent Georgia Women On Lee Memorial

Fredericksburg, Va., October 23.—Prominent among those attending the Stratford Day exercises at the ancestral home of the Lees, in Westmoreland county, Virginia, which were held under auspices of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation, which is raising a great fund to make General Lee's home a national shrine, was Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of Macon, Ga., who is chairman for Georgia in the movement to preserve Stratford Hall, in Virginia. Mrs. Lamar is a past president of Georgia division, U. D. C.; member of the Colonial Dames and has written a book on Sidney Lanier, the beloved poet whose home was in Macon. The purchase of the birthplace of Robert E. Lee, Stratford Hall, in Virginia, will mark the capture from oblivion of another great landmark and not only because of its individual association with Lee but with many other famous Lees born there who achieved distinction in the period between 1729 and 1807.

Mrs. Joseph Rucker Lamar, of Atlanta, is a member of the board of directors of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation, making the second well-known Georgia woman to be significantly honored in being invited to serve in this patriotic organization. The genealogical history of Mrs. Lamar, former national president of the Colonial Dames of America, represents on the board of Lee Foundation the colonial ancestry of General Lee, is closely connected with persons and events linked with the growth of the United States. She was, before her marriage, Miss Clarinda Pendleton, of Bethany, W. Va., and is a widow of Joseph Rucker Lamar, who was associate justice of the supreme court of the United States from 1911 to 1918. As a tribute to her distinguished husband, Mrs. Lamar was made a life member of the Georgia Bar Association. She was active in the fund-raising of the National Society of Colonial Dames to raise $100,000 endowment fund for the maintenance of Sulgrave Manor in England. Mrs. Lamar was chairman of the committee to purchase Bellevue in Washington, as headquarters of the national society and a museum of colonial history of the United States.

Fat Folks now not urged to Starve

Countless people now reduce without starving. You see them everywhere—slender, vigorous and youthful. They combated the cause excess fat, which usually lies in an under-active gland.

Modern physicians, in treating obesity, feed the lacking substance. The chief factors they use are embodied in Marmola prescription tablets, prepared by a famous laboratory. So all may use this modern method at small cost.

For 22 years Marmola has held its high place as a remedy for fat. Users have told others about it, until millions of boxes have been taken. That is one great reason why excess fat is far less common now.

Try the method which has helped so many. In each box of Marmola you will find the formula, also the scientific reasons for all good results. Go now and learn how much new beauty, youth and vigor it can bring to you.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure... keeps your mind at ease.

3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

4—In hospitals... Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.

5—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a patented process.

Kotex—45¢ for 12—at any drug, dry goods or department store. Kotex Super-Size—65¢ for 12.

GOOD-GROOMING is never so difficult—and ill-grooming never so unforgivable—as in warm weather. What a relief, then, is this new sanitary protection that can never embarrass!

Kotex really fits

Kotex is non-detectable, even under your lightest, filmiest clothes. Corners are rounded and tapered for perfect fit. There is no awkward bulk. Kotex brings a sense of complete security and peace of mind.

Other features make Kotex absolutely indispensable in warm weather. Kotex is light, cool, comfortable. It is filled with the wonderful absorbent Cellucotton wadding, in air-cooled layers. This is the same filler selected by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals. Doctors prefer Cellucotton for its wonderful absorbency—even using it for the most serious surgical work.

Kotex deodorizes

Kotex deodorizes, too—so much more important when weather is warm. And disposes instantly, like tissue. The Cellucotton layers can easily be adjusted to suit individual requirements.

No wonder this GEORGIA Mother is proud

"MY little son, Shannon, was troubled a lot with constipation," says Mrs. J. T. Underwood, 375 Crow St., Atlanta. "He got very weak, run-down and underweight. I gave him California Fig Syrup; and in just a little while he was eating heartily and gaining. Now I'm proud as can be; he's so robust, bright and active."

Temporary relief should be far from the first consideration when a child shows by bad breath, coated tongue, biliousness, or a listless, weak condition, that he's constipated. Of course, the child's system needs a prompt cleansing. But the youngster's bowels also need toning and strengthening.

That's where California Fig Syrup does its best work. It helps strengthen the bowel muscles; gives tone to a weak stomach. That's why faulty digestion improves with its use; bowel movements become regular and remain so.

Every child loves its flavor; its cleansing action is prompt but gentle. A pure vegetable product; no danger of causing the laxative habit. It has full medical endorsement. There are many imitations; but the word California marks the genuine.

Arthur Allen has returned from several weeks' visit to relatives in Texas, where he won directly after his arrival with Mrs. Allen from Europ, where they spent the past six months traveling. Mr. and Mrs. Allen are the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Prior, at their home on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nowlin, Jr., of Palm Beach, are at the Biltmore.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Webber, of Mapewood, N. J., and Mrs. A. N. Wilcox, of Flushing, L. I., and Miss Gertrude Leeming, of New York, are guests at the Biltmore hotel.

Miss Ruth McMillan, who has been ill for several weeks at Davis Fischer sanitarium, returned to her home on Juniper street yesterday.

Miss Grace Sprinkle, of Orangeburg, S. C., is at the Biltmore.

Mrs. Leon Davis, of New Orleans, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Felton Davis, at her home on Peachtree road.

Miss Eleanor Singleton, of St. Petersburg, Fla., is at the Georgian Terrace.

Miss Ruth Watson, of Birmingham, Ala., is spending this week at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. G. L. Hawks, 230 Terrace avenue, Petersburg, Virginia.

Mrs. Glenn Linn, 523 W. Warford st., Perry, Iowa.

Mrs. Grace A. Felton, 102 W. Minor avenue, Ladysmith, Wisconsin.

"I was just run-down, no good for anything, could eat very little, was restless all the time, and had nervous crying spells. I did not sleep any at night and just dreaded for night to come. My sister-in-law recommended the Vegetable Compound to me one day and my husband brought home a bottle. I began getting better when I was taking the second bottle and now I have a good appetite, take care of my people when they are sick and do my own work too."

—Mrs. G. L. Hawks.

"When I was a girl of 13 I was pale and run-down, my back ached and I had no life in me. My mother saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and got it for me and after taking six bottles I was like a different person. It made me strong and well and did wonders for me. The best I can say is not enough. I took three bottles more about a year ago and it helped me again. I am taking it now in the tablet form and find it a wonderful help. I will answer letters from women about it."

—Mrs. Glenn Linn.

The flu left me in a run-down condition. Friends recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has given me more vigor and has helped me to be more active. I do clerical work and cleaning and pressing and I am able to work every day and to work some at home too. I used to feel so weak and tired I had to lie down often. Now I have a good appetite, my nerves are better and I feel well and strong. I recommend the Compound whenever I can, for it gives results."

Miss Misterfeldt Weds Mr. Dickey In College Park

College Park, October 23.—The marriage of Miss Misterfeldt to Henry G. Dickey was quietly solemnized at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. James I. Greer, 306 East John Wesley avenue.

The spacious living room, in which the ceremony took place, was artistically decorated with drooping ferns, interspersed with stately pink dahlias. The wedding music was played by Miss Louise Wilson. Only the immediate families and near relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the bride's cousin, Judge T. O. Hathcock. The bride wore a brown velvet going-away suit, with accessories to match, and her corsage was brides' roses. A buffet luncheon was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dickey left for St. Louis, Mo., and other places of interest, and on their return will be at home on Hawthorne avenue, College Park.

Mrs. Harrington Re-elected Head of Young Matrons' Circle

Mrs. Eugene Harrington was unanimously re-elected president of the young matrons' circle for Tallulah Falls school at the annual luncheon meeting held yesterday at the Capital City Club with 200 members of the organization present. Other officers re-elected include Mrs. Marion Harper, Mrs. Charles Winslow, Jr., Mrs. Brooks Morgan, Mrs. Herbert Reynolds, vice presidents; Mrs. Parks Hunt, recording secretary; Mrs. Preston Arkwright, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Beaumont Davison, Jr., treasurer. The directors re-elected are Mesdames Walter Colquitt, Bruce Woodruff, W. D. Ellis III, Sinclair Jacobs, Turner Jones, C. V. Rainwater, W. W. Anderson and Lewis H. Beall.

Mrs. Hugh M. Dorsey, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the entire personnel of last year's officers and directors for reelection with thanks for the excellent service rendered by the able corps of executives.

Miss Davis Speaks.
Miss Anne Carrington Davis, principal of the Tallulah Falls school, was introduced by Mrs. John K. Ottley, president of the school's board of trustees, the former making an appeal to the young matrons to assist in securing scholarships for the education of boys and girls in the north Georgia mountains. At the conclusion of Miss Davis' talk, scholarships were given by the following: Mrs. Carroll McGaughey, Mrs. Greenville Giddings, Mrs. Hal Hantz, Mrs. W. F. Pearson, Mrs. Fred Cockrell, Mrs. Thomas Daniel, Mrs. H. W. Beers, Mrs. Willard Patterson and Mrs. Walter Colquitt.

Perpetual Scholarships.
Evoking enthusiasm from the members present was the announcement that perpetual scholarships to the school had been given through the young matrons' circle by Miss Davis.

Mrs. Ben Patterson reported progress in the campaign for subscriptions for the Southern, a new monthly magazine of which the circle receives a third. Mrs. George McCarthy, Jr., stated that Dr. Thomas Crenshaw, Jr., and Miss Hays were continuing their generous gift of dental work in the clinic at the Tallulah Falls school, and Mrs. Harrington, who presided over the meeting, introduced Mrs. Preston K. Arkwright, honorary president of the circle, and Mrs. John K. Ottley, president of the school's board of trustees.

Treasurer's Report.
Mrs. Beaumont Davison, Jr., treasurer of the circle, reported $5,168 raised for the school during the past year through the efforts of the young matrons' circle membership, in addition to gifts to the school including clothing, books, plants, furniture and equipment.

Mrs. Ben Patterson reported progress in the campaign for subscriptions for the Southern, a new monthly magazine of which the circle receives a third. Mrs. George McCarthy, Jr., stated that Dr. Thomas Crenshaw, Jr., and Miss Hays were continuing their generous gift of dental work in the clinic at the Tallulah Falls school, and Mrs. Harrington, who presided over the meeting, introduced Mrs. Preston K. Arkwright, honorary president of the circle, and Mrs. John K. Ottley, president of the school's board of trustees.

Mrs. Trammell Scott, who has sent many plants to the school, urged that many more such gifts be made. Special appreciation was expressed for gifts from a number of garden clubs. Garden clubs all over the state are requested to send plants, bulbs and seeds. Mrs. Charles Winslow reported practical gifts of many kinds. Mrs. Lawrence Willet, membership chairman, introduced a number of new members.

Mrs. Willard C. Patterson, chairman of publicity, and Mrs. Robert Cunningham, press chairman, were introduced and thanked for able work.

Mrs. Bruce Woodruff and Mrs. Walter Colquitt, directors, were presented, also Miss Gertrude Harris, president of the young girls' circle for Tallulah Falls school.

Gifts Presented.
An interesting feature of the luncheon was the series of presentations of gifts made to the school through the young matrons' circle. The first of these was a picture of General Robert E. Lee, beautifully framed and sent as a gift through the young matrons' circle by Mrs. T. T. Stevens, and presented in her behalf by Mrs. Hal Hantz. Another presentation made by Mrs. Hantz was a Confederate flag of which she, herself, was the donor. This flag completes the triad as the school received May 10 cent of a new United States flag from the Old Guard of Atlanta, W. M. Camp, commander, and a Georgia flag from Mrs. A. H. Brenner, president of Georgia federation.

The third presentation to the young matrons' circle was made by Mrs. Alex King, Jr., who, in behalf of her mother, Mrs. Charles Whitmore, of Boston, Mass., gave a large United States flag which had been used on patriotic occasions at her own home in Lexington, Mass.

Much interest was expressed in the introduction of Misses Anne Taylor and Marie Cannon, graduates of last year's class at the Tallulah Falls school, who are in training at the Henrietta Egleston Memorial hospital, in care of Miss Candlish, superintendent.

Mrs. Harrington, who presided over the meeting, introduced Mrs. Preston K. Arkwright, honorary president of the circle, and Mrs. John K. Ottley, president of the school's board of trustees.

Mrs. Trammell Scott, who has sent tees, who gave brief talks in appreciation of the circle's work for the Tallulah school. Mrs. Z. T. Fitzpatrick, vice president of the school's board of trustees, was an honored guest who spoke in behalf of the school. Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, Mrs. Bolling Jones, Mrs. Price Gilbert, Mrs. Elizabeth Winslow, of the advisory board, were present. Special guests were Mrs. S. V. Sanford and Mrs. Lamar Rucker, of Athens; Mrs. Russell Whitman, Mrs. E. A. Vandeventer and Mrs. Lewis Pearson.

Felicians To Honor Ohio Football Team

Members of the University of Dayton (Ohio) football team, who will play Oglethorpe Saturday, October 26, will be guests of honor at a tea-lance given by the Felicians Friday afternoon, October 25, at Columbian Club, 1200 Peachtree street, from 5 to 7 o'clock. The young ladies of the Sacred Heart school and the Catholic students of Oglethorpe will assist in receiving. No cards will be issued, invitation being given through the press to the Catholic young ladies and young men.

BUICKS

The world-famous Buick chassis and Buick's smart new Bodies by Fisher! An unrivaled combination! Providing the highest degree of motor car performance and all-round motoring satisfaction, over the greatest number of miles!

The more thoroughly you compare Buick with other cars, the more clearly you will understand why more than 2,000,000 people have bought Buicks—why men and women are buying from two to five times as many Buicks as any other automobile priced above $1200—and why they have purchased more Buicks during the few weeks this brilliant new car has been on the market than in any like period in Buick history.

See the new Buicks and arrange to buy one. Six of the 14 luxurious body types, incorporating all the famous Buick superiorities, are available at prices ranging from $1225 to $1295, f. o. b. factory. All available on the extremely liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Buick's new frictionless steering gear imparts matchless steering ease throughout the entire turning range, while the new Buick Road Shock Eliminator absolutely prevents transmission of road jolts and jars to the driver's arms. Twin features which make tremendous contribution to driving ease and roadability.

Buick's famous multiple-disc clutch, too, reveals marked superiorities. In addition to being far sturdier than those of conventional design, it imparts exceptional smoothness, due to its special facing which insures gentle, gradual engagement of the driving and driven surfaces.

Buick's famous torque tube serves two vitally important functions. It not only carries the driving shaft, leaving the rear springs free to cushion the car's progress, but also forms a major unit in the Buick chassis seal. Every moving part of the Buick chassis—from fan to rear wheels—is fully protected against dust, dirt and water, assuring maximum operating efficiency in any weather.

Yellow Jackets Will Depend on Reserves in Battle With Tulane

VANCE MAREE AND THOMASON SURE LOSSES

Varsity Will Enter Game Without Single Day of Practice.

By Ralph McGill.
Georgia Tech's football team will be an unknown quantity until the game with Tulane is actually played at New Orleans
Saturday afternoon.

Scrimmage was held yesterday afternoon at the Rose Bowl field, but the three important crumples were not it. Vance Maree, fullback; Stumpy Thomason, halfback; and Doug Graydon, tackle, the conflict with stretcher bearers hovering in the line.

Stumpy, little giant, struggled down the field. He was in uniform, wearing his Sunday armor. His shoulder, still stiff, allowed him to get into his play and to run a few signals, but not to take part in the scrimmage. That same shoulder showing a little tendency to get into shape, and small hopes are held out for Stumpy's appearance on a battlefield at New Orleans.

Doug Graydon, the sophomore flash, his feet in uniform for the first time in almost two weeks, hobbled down to the Rose Bowl, but did nothing more strenuous than follow the team about the field in its signal drill.

And Vance Maree spent a boring afternoon on the table under the watchful and expert eye of Mike Chambers. Mike hopes to get Maree back to that ankle some day, but he is not making any definite plans. The ankle is still several times its normal size and refuses to be coerced to responding more rapidly to treatment.

Tech will go into the Tulane game without a day of practice so far as the varsity is concerned. Injuries have made it impossible for the varsity to work as a unit.

With the varsity line-up punctured by holes by injuries Tech's most serious problem, that of the small reserve squad, is all the more apparent.

RESERVES.
That oft-quoted axiom that a team no stronger than its reserves is applicable to the 1929 Yellow Jackets. Last fall the team had at most two men for each position. This fall it has been necessary to shift from their regular positions to vacant ones.

That explains why the injuries of the fall have created such an unenviable situation. In the past injuries were not of such serious consequence. The vacancies could be filled by inexperienced men who are not ready for last Southern Conference competition.

Coaches announced that they would be unwilling to use any of the crumples, especially Thomason and Maree, because they are so injured that there is no chance of them being able to even though they were able to wear uniforms.

STUBBORN INJURY.
Thomason has a stubborn shoulder injury, the muscles at the tip of the shoulder being torn. He will be in the field for the remainder of the season. Maree is not yet able to practice, his ankle looking as if it were in one of those knitted fasciatae that grandmothers used to use to shape a foot.

Graydon will be in shape to play, but coaches are undecided. "He isn't had his foot on the field in almost two weeks," said Coach Alexander, "and a man who hasn't practiced in that length of time can't be effective. I haven't any idea what the line-up will be. We will make an effort to see what way can do, will be up to some of them to fit and win the game for us if it is to win."

LINE INACT.
The Georgia Tech line will start the game intact. The Farmer, substitute center, and Captain Rusk, the regular, are right in the best of condition, will not be out of the game.

Joe Westbrook and Jim Brooke, two guards who played so magnificently in the Florida game, are in perfect condition, as are the tackles, Elians, Fincher and Watkins. The line, Jones and Sid Williams, are in good condition.

THIRD STRING.
Gene Hancock, who started the fall game as a third-string fullback, is running Vance Maree's place. Hancock, a sub for two years, is getting his chance as a starter.

Johnny Huntsinger, a second-stringer, is running at Stumpy Thomason's place. They, along with Earl Campbell and Warner Mizell, the two players left in the backfield, are at present receiving all the attention as a starting backfield is groomed for Saturday. Coaches are working on the theory that any second man is more than a disabled one.

EX Names
Ten Devils and Tulane plays fitted perfection in Wednesday's practice. The Yellow Jackets, who stopped Wave formations almost at the end of the last week, had the Devil tricked their way to a score.

But Raynor failed first after he broke through tackle for a long open end exhibition, while Goldsmith attached a pass to carry the ball over on the second touchdown.

Stamps were not entirely outclassed, however, as they refused passage to the Devil march and repulsed it with ease during the remainder of the scrimmage.

Alex used his regular varsity line, with the exception of the replacement Captain Rusk by Clint Esell at the post, during the scrimmage. They were backed by Colvin, quarterback; Jack, fullback, and Huntsinger and Esell, halfbacks.

A squad of 33 Jackets will make a trip to New Orleans, according to an announcement made by Coach Alexander at the close of Wednesday's practice.

REVISED ALMA MATER.
Ye sons of Georgia Tech arise
Whom good alumni "subsidize"
And prove Tulane's grid devotees
Are just not worth a waiter's fees.

Georgia Tech "subsidizes" its athletes, the Carnegie report says. Tulane does not.

There must be some mistake. Surely Tulane has a better football team than that!

If Tech wins, it will prove Tulane's athletes were not worth a scholarship anyhow. If Tech loses, a lot of subsidizing has been wasted.

Without going into the matter deeply, we venture that Tulane is agreeably surprised to find itself off in a class with Virginia in the Southern conference as chemically pure in its athletics.

However, the report says, "no evidence was found." That may mean that the Tulane system is several years in advance of the rest of the conference.

It is in the list of the elect that one finds most surprises. There is the United States Military Academy, for instance. Unless my memory is bad, two lieutenants haunted Tech Flats one fall trying to persuade Jimmy Brewster to become a major-general.

EVERYBODY HELPED.
Happily the entire Southern conference is in the same boat, with the exception of the saintly folks down at Tulane.

I happen to know that at Georgia Tech, at Georgia, at Vanderbilt the coaches turned over all their personal letter files and co-operated in every way. They laid their cards on the table. Presumably the others did likewise. Hence the results.

H. J. Stegeman gave the Carnegie Foundation investigator a whole day and the key to all records. Yet the report says Georgia did not co-operate. Maybe the investigator expected to be awarded an honorary degree.

Still one cannot get over that Tulane situation. Do Tulane alumni decline to help boys through college? Or do the Tulane alumni care? Are there Tulane alumni? Is the cafeteria system in use at Tulane? Are there no student waiters?

Do star athletes from Louisiana high schools go to Tulane so they can spend four years in an historic city that has a French quarter and horse racing?

Do the best football players from state prep schools attend Tulane because the Battle of New Orleans was fought there? If the Carnegie Foundation will answer those questions, all of us in the awkward class will feel properly sat upon.

WHAT NEXT?
So, after years of puttering about the realm of intercollegiate athletics, tilting at windmills and disgorging reams upon reams of printed material that never was read, the Carnegie Foundation has at last "made page one."

They find that star athletes are given jobs and other inducements by our colleges and universities.

They spent millions of dollars and three and a half years of work to find out what everybody knows.

That proves something about the Carnegie Foundation.

One of these days the Carnegie Foundation will send an expedition to the north pole and the following year announce positively there is no Santa Claus. Oh, yes they will!

NOT SO GRUESOME.
As said, everybody knew that star high school football players and baseball players were given jobs, scholarships or other inducements to attend certain colleges.

But as long as the practice did not lead to the production in our colleges of thugs, gunmen, bandits, thieves and the like we did not mind. The colleges seem to be turning out pretty good citizens right along; the tramp athlete and the out-and-out professional long since have been legislated out of athletic fields of institutions belonging to organized bodies of control.

In fact the layman cannot see why it is destructive to the morals of a boy who can play football to help him through school. Ten to one he will go out into the world and become more of a credit to the institution than a pale flower with a 32-inch chest and an aptitude for Greek verbs and botany.

GOOD WILL RESULT.
Yet with all the laughter that will follow the expensive "expose" of college athletics—it is just about as startling as the profound announcement that the Easter bunny really does not lay eggs—good may come of the whole clumsy matter.

It may curb the pernicious activities of "new" schools that frankly are recruiting athletes for the advertising value inherent in a good football team.

It may result in the eradication of the extreme cases that are disgraceful in their crudeness.

And it undoubtedly will dampen in the breast of the Old Grad the holier than thou attitude. It will remove a lot of hypocrisy from the athletic background of many institutions.

It will put everybody back on earth again. It shows that dear Old Alma was in just as deep as those low-brow folks over at the campus of the traditional rival.

THE BEST REMEDY.
And finally it may suggest to some college executives that the way to keep athletics pure is to raise the scholastic requirements a bit.

For after all if a boy comes to college and passes his work with high grades, the college will have served its purpose. The favors earned by his athletic prowess will not hurt the lad unless it leads to a mild over-estimate of the cash value of physical strength and athletic skill.

And ten days in the busy marts of trade after graduation will dispel any illusions he might have held over the cash value of a 75-yard run for touchdown.

TECH, GEORGIA ON ROAD

Tech's Cake Race, the Winner, and His Reward

A section of the field of 600-odd, mainly freshmen, which entered the cross country cake race at Georgia Tech yesterday afternoon is shown below as they lined up on Grant Field for the start of the long grind. A number of these starters faded out before the finish line was reached. Harold Asbury, a junior, did not. He won the event and is shown at the right as he was presented with the cake emblematic of his victory by Miss Sue Heath, lovely member of the younger set.

Georgia To Be Without Waugh—Maree and Thomason Out.
By Ed Danforth.
Georgia and Georgia Tech are getting ready to go traveling this week-end.
Georgia's surprising sophomores, changed within two weeks from dark horses to all-stars, are preparing against University of Florida plays in preparation for their game with the Gators in Jacksonville, Saturday.
Georgia Tech, back in the conference race again by virtue of a resounding drubbing dealt out to the aforementioned University of Florida, is busy rebuilding the varsity for a battle with Tulane university in New Orleans.
Both these expeditions will give alumni a great opportunity to organize rooting parties and accompany their gridiron pets into the enemy's country.
ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY.
The Bulldogs, trying valiantly to hold the bright flame of inspiration that carried them to victory over Yale and North Carolina on successive Saturdays—and successful against the reports say—have just another opportunity to advance their conference rating.
The Gators, plunged into despair at their defeat by Tech last week and cracked off physically by the strenuous combat, hope to stage a comeback and retrieve a season that another defeat would stamp as mediocre.
All in all the Bulldog-Gator battle should be a wow. The Athens people, incidentally, highly anticipated a defeat handed them last year by Florida; they never have been convinced that it was exactly a measure of the strength of their two football machines.
With Armin Waugh, prize speed marvel of the Bulldog backfield out with injuries, Coach McNeely has been priming several other fast boys to take his place. Scrimmage yesterday ended the rough work for the varsity. They have on special care attached to "The Georgian," crack train of the Central of Georgia railroad, Thursday night at 9 o'clock, and arrive Friday morning in Jacksonville. Florida boosters are making a big day of the Jacksonville engagement and prospects are that 20,000 will see the game.
FINAL SCRIMMAGE.
With Thomason and Maree on the sidelines, the Yellow Jackets took a final scrimmage yesterday against Tulane. The game was a hard-fought affair, with both teams playing to the hilt for the rest of the week. Huntsinger and Houck have been selected to start in place of the injured regulars. Tulane is undefeated and rated a favorite for the conference title. It will be the third undefeated team Tech has met on the field Saturday; if the Jackets can stop Tulane, the conference first flight will be narrowed considerably. There is, of course, a chance the Tech will win but on the face of returns to date the Yellow Jackets are given the short end of the odds.
Most of the others in the conference are playing easy games to give their machines a "rest" before the November campaign opens.

BRIGUIEL PAYS BACKERS $84.50

Fleischman Racer Wins Going Away To Take Laurel Event.

By Orlo L. Robertson.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, October 23.—Briguiel, a French thoroughbred, handed the talent a new blow today at Laurel as he won the Governor Ogle steeplechase handicap and $8,775 for his owner, C. R. Fleischman.

But Fleischman was not the only person to profit by the ten-length victory over the best of the jumpers in training at the Maryland track. A few scattered backers were repaid $84.50 for every $2 invested at the mutual windows.

E. R. Bradley's Beelzebub, another rank outsider, finished second and paid $21.70 to place, $10.30 to show. Six lengths farther away came W. F. Hitt's Crumpler.

Nine starters got away over the jumps, with the Widener entry of MacCarthy More and Arc Light established as the favorites, but neither was a factor.

The West Point handicap brought the best field at Empire City, with the Newtendon stable's Killdeer winning the event under 104 pounds. A half-length back of the winner at the end of the mile and 70-yard jaunt was Turf Writer, while in third place was Okaybee, the early pacemaker. The distance was run in 1:44 2/5 over a good track.

Although rain and muddy track held the crowd to low ebb at Latonia, the winners of most of the seven events turned in sensational performances. Kary McCook came through in the opening number with an eight-length victory. Peggy Lee didn't do so well in the second but managed to get the decision by a length and a half. In the third, McCulloch, making his first start since June, romped home 12 lengths in front of his field.

Purple Sand continued the parade in the fourth with a six-length triumph, while Alvin Gauska finished the fifth with the same amount of daylight separating him from the second horse.

Seven claiming affairs made up the card at Aurora for a very small crowd. Rain mixed with an occasional flurry of snow made it disagreeable for the spectators. The fourth event brought out the best of an ordinary lot, with S. Polk's three-year-old Tryster Gilly, Saddle Skirts, proving the best of the field.

ASBURY WINS IN CAKE RACE

Time for Event Clips 39 Seconds From Old Record.

By Ralph McGill.

Evidence that some of the boys are muscling their way through most of our best universities is offered this morning by the Carnegie Foundation, a ubiquitous organization which each year promulgates ponderous fulminations.

The research is exhaustive and thorough, as all Carnegie Foundation researches are. Last season the annual and exhaustive report dealt with the relative dumbness of the athletes. It required a year of exhaustive research by endowed searchers to discover that track men were the dumbest of athletes and the football men second.

It required several thousands of dollars to prove that vital fact, so important to the price of comestibles and the general welfare of the nation. Beyond the agonized squawk of the track men and the pious surprise of the football coaches, who were sure their men were the dumbest, little came of it.

This fall the Foundation is after football subsidies. If John Rockefeller has saved his money and wants to send Sadie Smith to college to study music, or Rollo Jones to study art, he gets his picture on the front pages of the newspapers and pretty things are said about him.

COARSE CHARACTER.
BUT, if old John Smith goes to Joe Podunk and says, "Joe, you are a nice boy and you can take a football and go away from there so I am going to pay your way through college. Take this money and when you need more come to me," then old John Smith has done a sinister thing and is a Fagin and a coarse character.

Sadie Smith will play pieces for the folks on Sunday afternoon and Rollo Jones will paint pictures his mama will hang in the parlor.

Joe Podunk will entertain a lot of people, keep his body in shape and get at least a smattering of a pretty useful education. Yet they call him an "evil."

AND now go on with the story.

MANY FIGURES.
Just last year the foundation proved conclusively that football was overemphasized. It seems that great crowds of ninety and one hundred thousand were going to football games and that there must be something wrong with such a sport that was being played by college athletes.

The foundation proved with a ponderous array of figures that only a small group of men were interested in the debates, the arts and other exercises calculated to speed up the mental dendrites in the right direction.

That was the year the foundation started on its important task of proving that football was a commercialized sport. Three years have been spent on research and the results are now announced.

Crippled Volunteers Report for Work
Knoxville, Tenn., October 23.—(AP) A temporarily crippled Volunteer squad was called to practice by Coach Neyland today.

Injuries in last Saturday's Alabama game had Jake Johnston, tackle, and Fritz Brandt, end, on the sidelines. Two reserve backs, Kohlbase and Fays, were hurt in scrimmage Monday.

BULLDOGS MEET 'GATORS; TECH PLAYS TULANE

Georgia To Be Without Waugh—Maree and Thomason Out.

By Ed Danforth.

Georgia and Georgia Tech are getting ready to go traveling this week-end.

Georgia's surprising sophomores, changed within two weeks from dark horses to all-stars, are preparing against University of Florida plays in preparation for their game with the Gators in Jacksonville, Saturday.

Georgia Tech, back in the conference race again by virtue of a resounding drubbing dealt out to the aforementioned University of Florida, is busy rebuilding the varsity for a battle with Tulane university in New Orleans.

Both these expeditions will give alumni a great opportunity to organize rooting parties and accompany their gridiron pets into the enemy's country.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY.
The Bulldogs, trying valiantly to hold the bright flame of inspiration that carried them to victory over Yale and North Carolina on successive Saturdays—and successful against the reports say—have just another opportunity to advance their conference rating.

The Gators, plunged into despair at their defeat by Tech last week and cracked off physically by the strenuous combat, hope to stage a comeback and retrieve a season that another defeat would stamp as mediocre.

All in all the Bulldog-Gator battle should be a wow. The Athens people, incidentally, highly anticipated a defeat handed them last year by Florida; they never have been convinced that it was exactly a measure of the strength of their two football machines.

With Armin Waugh, prize speed marvel of the Bulldog backfield out with injuries, Coach McNeely has been priming several other fast boys to take his place. Scrimmage yesterday ended the rough work for the varsity.

They have on special care attached to "The Georgian," crack train of the Central of Georgia railroad, Thursday night at 9 o'clock, and arrive Friday morning in Jacksonville. Florida boosters are making a big day of the Jacksonville engagement and prospects are that 20,000 will see the game.

FINAL SCRIMMAGE.
With Thomason and Maree on the sidelines, the Yellow Jackets took a final scrimmage yesterday against Tulane. The game was a hard-fought affair, with both teams playing to the hilt for the rest of the week. Huntsinger and Houck have been selected to start in place of the injured regulars.

Tulane is undefeated and rated a favorite for the conference title. It will be the third undefeated team Tech has met on the field Saturday; if the Jackets can stop Tulane, the conference first flight will be narrowed considerably. There is, of course, a chance the Tech will win but on the face of returns to date the Yellow Jackets are given the short end of the odds.

Bulldog Squad Drilled Hard.
Athens, Ga., October 23.—Coaches McNeely and Thomas sent the Georgia football squad through a hard practice here this afternoon in preparation for the coming game in Jacksonville with the Florida Gators. Besides the regulars, the squad included a freshman team using Florida plays, the Georgia coaches had their men practicing charging, blocking, tackling and breaking down.

REGAIN ENERGY.
The varsity players seem to have regained most of the energy which they lost in the North Carolina game. They came on the field frisky and ready to play football and proceeded to give Gene Smith's men a taste of college football. A team composed of Tassapouas, center; Stelling and Maffett, guards; Bryant and Frisbie, tackles; Maffett and Kelley, ends; Moran, quarterback; Rothstein, fullback; Chandler and Dickens, halfbacks, was placed on the line against a strong freshman eleven.

Without waiting for a touchdown, the Bulldogs started charging into the offense backfield with a vim and dash that formerly has been reserved for games. The first-year men finally released to the air and managed to complete enough passes to make up for the losses which they sustained while attempting to advance the ball through the line and around the end.

BREAKING UP RUNS.
Maffett and Kelley were breaking up runs on the line while the rest of the line was shuffling in on the freshman backs before they could get started. Time after time Bryant, Frisbie, Stelling and Maffett were getting to the passers before the receivers were ready for the pass.

On the offense the Bulldogs met with about the same success. The backfield combination of Dickens, Chandler, Moran and Rothstein was working with smoothness and precision. They were logging the ball through large holes opened by the varsity line men for sizable gains. The most encouraging part of the practice, however, was the work of Tommy Gerding and Ed Hamilton. Gerding came up from the Red Devils and has been showing up well in the scrimmages for the last week, while Hamilton has recently been shifted from quarterback to the halfback position. This afternoon these two boys broke loose on a scoring spree which stamped them as potential big stars.

STARS TAKE IT EASY.
Captain Joe Roland, Vernon Smith and Austin Downes have been excused from the scrimmages so far this week.

Clemson's Powerful Team Meets South Carolina This Afternoon

Tigers Favored Over Gamecocks

Strong Line of Cody Machine Will Prove Big Advantage.

By Ben Cothran,
Staff Correspondent.

Columbia, S. C., October 23.—(Special.)—Undeclared in five games, adding the Southern conference in total number of points scored, Clemson's husky Tigers rested here tonight preparatory to meeting South Carolina's light Gamecock team at the State Fair grounds tomorrow.

It is a sizeable Tiger that big Josh Cody has brought here. Cody probably has more raw, unadulterated power on tap than any other coach in the south. If he so desires, Josh Cody can put a team of eleven letter-men on the field and it would be a Continued on Fourth Sport Page.

Winning New Customers With Irresistible Values

Have You Ever Had a Mint Julep Shave?

Once you get a box of BRISK, open the lid and shave with BRISK, you will never "monkey" with anybody's tube, stick or powder.

You've heard of shaves being cool; of being smooth; of being refreshing and bracing, but there's only one way to describe a BRISK shave and that's a mint julep shave!

BRISK is "there" because of the things it does on your face. First of all, it lathers instantly and freely in hot or cold water and plenty of lather is the first requirement of a good shave. BRISK absorbs two to three times the amount of water that old fashioned shaving cream does. Hence it makes two to three times the amount of lather—and a lather that stays moist on your face until you finish your shave!

Lubricates the Cutting Stroke

The rich, moistureful lather quickly "cuts" the beard oil and soaks the hair soft for easy, clean cutting. Moreover, it lubricates the cutting stroke of the razor. You know how a bit of soap on a saw eases its passage through a log—well, that's how BRISK smooths the path of the razor. The razor does not "pull" or bump along over your face, but glides sweetly over the skin, cutting down the hair cleanly and closely and almost without effort.

Every stroke of the razor does a clean job. No need to go over and over the same spot and "butcher" your face to get a close shave.

Put Your Face in Good Humor for the Day

A BRISK shave is a joy rather than a bore; a delight rather than a harassing experience! It leaves your skin so refreshed, so soft and supple and young looking that your face feels indebted to you for having been shaved! BRISK is different, even unto the package. It comes in a flat, oval tin, for men only, and holds an extra lot of shave, because you have to use so little compared to the average shaving cream.

Try just one BRISK shave. You'll get an instant O. K. from your face. Get BRISK now at any good drug store or toilet goods counter—fifty cents.

BRISK has four brothers: ZEST, a refreshing after-shave lotion; TRIM, a hair dressing in cleanly stick form; SMOOTH, a powder that kills shine without showing powder; STIP, a new type "stoptic" that closes cuts pronto!

Advice to Golfers.

Oh! Come and put your golf clubs up
And can the whole procedure;
Dismiss the all too bitter cup;
Forget you ever teed your

Ball and hooked it out of bounds,
Forget the horrid chasms,
The agony of wretched rounds,
The waggles and the spasms.

Go get a golf book—try a swing
Or two—read all the hokum—
And then smoke up and dream of spring
And how you're going to soak 'em!
—WILFRED FUNK.

Not yet—not yet—just yesterday
While I was talking with 'em
(I mean some pros), I found a way
To standardize my rhythm.

And when you hear the lyric tones
My club makes—wood and iron—
You won't say "There goes Bobby Jones"—
But Shelley, Keats or Byron.

In the Way of National Banking.

Two of the big games on the card for Saturday that are bound to count heavily along the lines of national ranking are Stanford-Southern California and Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech.

It is quite probable that the combined strength of Stanford and Southern California was never quite as great as it is this year.

Both squads are made up of big, fast material, experienced and ably coached—with long spring training campaigns to perfect the fundamentals and the general machinery. Each team can call upon six or seven fast backs who can run, pass and kick—or at least run, buck and pass.

In the same way Notre Dame always looks on Carnegie Tech as one of its top foemen. The reason is simple enough if you look back over past scores, and Carnegie Tech again has an outfit that is good enough to annoy any one.

Stanford and Notre Dame will be slight favorites, but there will be no squally upsets to write about, no matter what happens.

They Must Have It.

Each autumn now, with all the hullabaloo churned up, is always the autumn of football's discontent. And this discontent, as usual, turns back to the matter of more and noisier publicity. The period of beratement from those overlooked is on in full blast. "Why don't you write more about so-and-so?" is one of the battlecries that sends its ringing chorus against the gray or blue October skies.

Do old grads and colleges and football players figure that nothing else matters much except publicity? The football players don't bother about it, but the warwhoops of the non-combatants reach the dimensions of vocal cataclysms. They seem to forget there must be a hundred or more fine football teams in the country and at least 200 star football players.

And many of these are far better football players than many of those for whom publicity has been demanded.

Two Interesting Games.

It isn't often that the Army and Navy team into two members of the Old Guard on the same afternoon. These two games may not have any bearing on the final ranking, which is always a guess, anyway, but they will be full of action for big crowds.

The Army meets Yale, and the Navy meets Princeton, and at this point it looks as if the toughest assignment.

The Navy has no backfield star to match Cagle, but the Army would give more than a cigarette for some of Bill Ingram's forwards. So far as action and color and a picture worth looking at may count, not forgetting traditional rivalry of the keenest sort, these two games will be something to watch. Princeton has always found the Navy a troublesome barrier, and there will be no change in the story this year, despite the fact that the Tiger has greater length and sharpness to his claws than the season's record has shown so far.

When it comes to line play and line strength, some football team will have to hustle to show more than Notre Dame and Pittsburgh. Ends, tackles, guards and centers—take them either way—find a weakness, and your eye-sight is exceptional.

Given his chance, of half a chance, and it hasn't taken Frank Cavanaugh long at Fordham to show that one of the old guard is still up in the front row.

Clark Prepares For Benning

Hard scrimmage work was held on the Clark flats Wednesday with the reserves using Fort Benning's plays and formations. They made several touchdowns on the varsity, using a delayed buck and a pass attack.

The coaching staff, with only today left to whip their machine into shape for Friday's game with the Fort Benning team, of Columbus, Ga., was not pleased with the showing their first-string men made in the workout. Every effort is being put forth to wipe out the defeat handed the Atlanta outfit last year when the Army defeated them, 7-0.

Baker, Chambers, Dukes and Roberts, backfield combination of the Panthers, was held in check in scrimmage with the reserves. The reserve backfield combination of Wadley, Shaw, Brown and Linwood ran wild and kept the entire varsity on defense as Fort Benning plays were deceptive.

Linwood, hard driving fullback who has already seen plenty of action this season, made long gains over center and off tackle. Brown, a recruit, got off to some good gains around the ends, making the varsity line look very bad.

The secondary defense of both teams showed up well and not a single pass was completed. In this department, the varsity has shown up well all season. No team as yet has been able to do any serious harm by the air route.

Fort Benning will arrive late this afternoon with a squad of 24 men, trainer and coach. It is rumored that Tilles, the hard driving backfield ace of the Army, will not make the trip. He received an injury in the game with Morris Brown at the opening of the season. Lodges, Hend and Carter, backfield luminaries of the infantry, are in the best of condition.

Tickets for the game can be secured at the business office of Clark university on the campus. The special section of the grandstand will be reserved for white fans.

Sport Broadcasts

Irk Manufacturers

Chicago, October 23.—(P)—What to do about broadcasting sporting events puzzled the radio industry today as a committee representing the Radio Manufacturers' Association started to work out a plan for appealing sports promoters.

For several months broadcasters have received complaints from sports promoters, particularly boxing and baseball, who contended that receipts have been cut down by broadcasting. They wanted either a discontinuance of these broadcasts or recompense for the depleted gate receipts.

The radio makers and dealers do not want to give up these broadcasts because they consider them among the main purposes to which the radio was put, and if buyers cannot listen on their favorite sports there will not be so many buyers. Therefore, the radio men planned either to pay for the broadcasting rights themselves, sell the rights to advertisers or work out some similar plan.

PRINCETON OUT FOR REVENGE OVER MIDDIES

Tigers Face Tough Foe in Navy—Large Crowd Expected.

Princeton, N. J., October 23. Next Saturday is a red letter day on the Princeton football calendar. The Tigers face what is expected to prove the hardest home game of the year when the Annapolis Midshipmen sail into Palmer stadium.

Always a great game for the spectators, the contest this year between the Middies and the Tigers is expected to be one of the most thrilling of the long series staged between these two teams. Plenty of color will be afforded by the presence of the corps to back up vocally, as only the service schools can, the efforts of their team on the field. Maneuvers will be staged in the stadium before word is given for the Middies to rush for their seats, and the inevitable mascot goat will prance up and down by the Navy bench during the fray.

Princeton will attempt this year to gain revenge for the defeat suffered at Navy's hands in Philadelphia last year. Playing another contest after the historic closing game with Yale did the Tigers no good. They suffered their only loss of the 1928 season, 9-0, when White Hall broke loose for a 70-yard touchdown run and later kicked a field goal. This year Lloyd is ineligible, having played three seasons of varsity football, and the Tigers hope to turn the tables on the sailors.

PRINCETON AHEAD.

Although the complete record of the series between Princeton and Annapolis shows the Tigers have a comfortable lead of ten victories to four defeats and five ties, the tide has been swinging toward the Middies in recent years. The last two games, played in 1923 and 1928, both resulted in Navy victories, and the two before that were no decision affairs. Both teams have already met defeat this season, but this fact has detracted nothing from the interest attaching to the battle here Saturday.

Always a slow starter, Princeton took a little too long to get under way, and fell victim to Brown's clever forward passing game. As a result practice has emphasized the defense against overhead play, and for the first time more hours have been spent in perfecting defensive play than in further developing the attack.

TIGER FEATURE.

One of the features of Princeton play so far has been the steady brilliance of Bill Barfield at right tackle. Captain of his freshman team four years ago, Barfield is playing his third season as regular varsity tackle, and has seldom been forced by injuries to leave a game.

His great work last season won him honorable mention by many sports authorities as of All-American timber, and his work this year is being closely watched. In the Brown game it was his ability to break up plays that made the right side of Princeton's line impregnable while the left side gave way consistently. His recovery of the punt that bounced off the Brown safety man also paved the way to Princeton's second touchdown.

Preps Taper Off For Week's Tilts

Smithies Face U. S. B. Bluebirds in Game at Spiller's Friday To Open Card.

Prep football activities in the city will slow down considerably this afternoon, after hard sessions Wednesday afternoon. Only light workouts with lengthy signal drills will feature today's practices in the final preparation for Friday games.

Tech High and University School will set off the week's fireworks with a game at 2:30 o'clock at Spiller's Friday. Fulton High and Decatur High will journey to Marietta to play the Cobb county lads. Marietta has an open date.

Coach Doyal and his Boys' High Eleven will play Rome High in Rome, Ga., in another of the big prep games of the week.

G. M. A., which held Boys' High to a scoreless tie last Friday at Spiller's, will take on Savannah High Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at Spiller's. It will be one of the deciding games of the G. I. A. A. race as both teams are members of the state organization.

Coaches Padgett and Burbage sent the Cadets through a long, hard scrimmage Wednesday afternoon and another is slated to be held today. A light workout will be held early Friday afternoon, after which the

Billy Hicks Sees Crimsons Workout

Tusculoosa, Ala., October 23.—(Special.)—Billy Hicks, the Crimson Tide's all-time backfield star, returned to the gridiron this afternoon after his long layoff, but did not take any part in the scrimmage.

Hicks went to Birmingham early in the week for examination of his injuries, but was sent back to the campus for treatment.

It is not expected that he will get back into the game before next week, as he has not taken even limbering exercises since the Tennessee game. He will retire for a good night's sleep and an early Saturday morning start.

Morris Brown Game Shifted

Morris Brown university and Georgia State college, of Savannah, two of the strongest colored football teams in the state, will play at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Spiller field.

The game was scheduled to be played on the Morris Brown campus, but due to the demand for tickets, it was transferred to Spiller field. A special section of the grandstand has been reserved for white persons.

Coach Lockhart, the Wolverine mentor, sent his players through a long, hard workout Wednesday afternoon, in preparation for the game. It was the first time that Tyler, his varsity quarterback, has participated in the rough work. He had been ill since the practice season began in September.

All the other players seem to be in excellent shape and ready for the fray. Very little is known of the strength of the Savannah eleven but State college always ranks at the top in colored football circles.

Bob Shawkey, New Yankee Manager, Discusses Rebuilding Club

Infield, Pitching Are Main Worries

Deals Are Pending That Will Bolster Team for 1930 Race—New Star Discovered.

By George Kirksey.

New York, October 23.—(United News.)—The reconstruction of the New York Yankees was discussed today by Robert J. Shawkey, Bob the Gob—when he signed a one-year contract to pilot the team in 1930. Shawkey, who served as coach under the late Miller Huggins last season after 13 years on the Yankee pitching staff, said he considered as his biggest problems the finding of a third baseman and bolstering the pitching staff.

He denied that Mark Koenig, who was benched last season when he failed to make good at third base, would be traded.

"Koenig will be the Yanks' short-stop next season," Shawkey said. The vacant spot in left field caused by Bob Meusel's departure to Cincinnati will be filled by Allen (Dusty) Cooke, St. Paul outfielder, who led the American association in batting last season.

COOKE IS OKAY. "They tell me that Cooke is the next thing to Babe Ruth when it comes to driving the ball," Shawkey said. "If he is, that's good enough for me."

Several deals are pending, Shawkey said, several with major league clubs and one with St. Paul.

Shawkey, who will be 39 in December, will remain in New York for the annual minor league baseball meeting. He will go to Chattanooga, Tenn., to attend the annual minor league gathering early in December.

In signing only a one-year contract, Shawkey said that he would not accept any other kind.

"If I make good the Yankees will give me another contract," he said, "and if I don't neither one of us will be wasting our time."

HIS AMBITION. "It has always been my ambition to manage a major league club and my ambition was exceeded beyond all bounds when word came to me that I had been named manager of one of the greatest baseball organizations of all time."

If Jimmy Reese, the Oakland recruit, makes good at second base, Tony Lazzeri will be given a trial at third base.

"Koenig will positively play short-stop," Shawkey said. "He became discouraged last season when he failed at third. I think he will come back in great shape this season. Lazzeri

Every Nickname Has Its Story

There is a story back of every nickname. "Lena" Styles, once a catcher with the A's and now in the International, got his in a funny way. He was a good hitter down in Alabama and the fans used to yell "Lena o it." That was too much so they cut it to "Lena."

Southgate, Southern Conference boxing champion at 115, wasn't "Shack" until he entered Duke. His first name was Southgate.

Southgate also was the name of the Girls' dorm, but the boys always called it "The Shack." So Martin became "Shack."

And so it goes, but will somebody kindly tell why Christian Keener Cagle is nicknamed "Red"? His hair isn't even sorrel.

says he would like to play third, and that his arm is good and strong.

Shawkey has a world of faith in Koenig. They roomed together in 1927, when Koenig had his greatest season.

Shawkey expects great things from Roy Sherid, the young right-hander who improved last under Bob's coaching last season.

"I will be greatly disappointed if Sherid doesn't become a really great pitcher," he said. "He has the nerve, control and stuff, and is willing to learn."

The new manager said he was satisfied with the Yanks' outfield and catching staff.

Freshmen Tie Emory Juniors

Outplayed for three quarters, the Juniors stood their ground and held the Freshmen to a 6-6 tie in the third and closest game of the Emory university inter-class football schedule.

At the very outset the Juniors scored a touchdown on a pass, Lange to Edwards, and held their ground for the rest of the half, although the Rats battled to the 10-yard line twice, losing the ball on incomplete passes.

In the last part of the final period, Tom Lane, Freshman captain, led a drive down the field that culminated in an end run by himself, which netted the winning score. The Rats kept the ball in the Junior territory a large part of the game, but they couldn't put it over for the score that would win. Both teams missed their chance for a victory when their kicks after goal went wide.

August Is Set For Lipton Cup Trials

New York, October 23.—(P)—The right to defend the Americas cup against a yacht to be constructed by Sir Thomas Lipton, noted British sportsman, will be decided on New York, with four boats fighting for the honor in a series of races from August 30, of 1930.

Formal announcement of the dates for the trial races was made today by the New York Yacht Club through its secretary, George Cormack. The boats will be under observation July 7 to 19 before competing in the trial races.

"In an extreme case 32 athletes and prospective athletes were employed to maintain a small playing field and to do odd jobs (New York university)."

"Some 17 athletes at the University of Wisconsin, where athletes are most extensively employed in this capacity, appeared on the regular pay rolls of the athletic department as trainers and rubbers, with an average monthly wage of $3.67. With all due allowance for large squads and an intensive rubbing system the number is generous."

Referring to "those forms of aid which are frankly and unequivocally termed athletic scholarships," the report says: "The amounts and the numbers of such awards available and the base of the award at the time of each field visit varied considerably (Blue Ridge 12; Colgate 25; Geneva 35; Georgetown, unspecified; Gettysburg 30; Fordham 20; Muhlenberg, unspecified; Pennsylvania State college 14; Syracuse 14; West Virginia Wesleyan 20; Ursinus 16.)"

"The benefit is rarely paid in cash. Values of athletic scholarships range from part or full tuition at the lower end of the scale (Colgate) to allowances graduated in amounts according to the number of teams for which the recipient is selected (Blue Ridge.)"

CHOSEN BY COACHES. In some cases, it is observed, "Coaches (Lebanon Valley) or a graduate manager (Syracuse) have chosen the recipients of athletic scholarships."

"The practice of 'caring for' more or less definite number of athletes, ranging from 25 to 5; (Bucknell, Gettysburg, West Virginia Wesleyan), is a somewhat less formal matter than the award of athletic scholarship. Its excuse is the competitive bids of rivals, and its limit usually is 'all college expenses.'"

"Sometimes (Boston college, Holy Cross, Notre Dame) no definite promises are made; the athlete is merely assured that he will be 'cared for.'"

"Although the probable success of the candidate at athletics is usually a pre-requisite to such arrangements, a further obligation of some sort is occasionally imposed: The performing of odd tasks about the campus, or recruiting—indeed an athlete successful at recruiting may even be valued at his full college expenses without any other requirement than attendance at the university (Oglethorpe)."

Recommendations and appointments to subsidies are made by persons intimately acquainted with the institution's athletic affairs: Coaches, graduate managers, athletic directors, the president's assistant (Gettysburg) or the president himself (Oglethorpe)."

SOURCE OF FUNDS. "Funds for subsidizing may come from alumni or friends of the college, from the athletic association or organization, or from the institution (Allegheny, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Centre, Dickinson, Grove City, Lafayette, Lebanon Valley, Northwestern, University of Pennsylvania, Western Maryland.)"

"At some preparatory schools these subsidy expenses have been charged advertising (Bellevue, Kiskiminetus) with a frank appreciation of their appropriateness of the procedure."

"The amounts available in slush funds vary (Carnegie Tech $13,000, Centre $600, Grove City $8,000, Lafayette $8,000) with the interest of contributors, but the number of beneficiaries varies less with the size of each fund than with the cost of living at the institutions (Carnegie Tech 32, Centre 11, Wisconsin 7, Grove City 25, Lafayette 12, Lebanon Valley 16, Northwestern 16, Western Maryland 6)."

"In an extreme case of subsidizing, alumni and business men made contributions ranging from $10 to nearly $1,000 annually to a fund aggregating $25,000 (Syracuse). From this the college expenses of all football players were paid and additional sums, termed as 'pay checks' were disbursed to leading performers (Washington and Jefferson). Later the practice was modified to provide only tuitions, board, room and fees, without cash payments. The essentials of the practice may be the same, even though the fund be small (Franklin and Marshall)."

"TAPERING-OFF." "In at least three instances the practices at the time of the field visits were explained as a tapering-off of more extensive operations (Centre, Lafayette, Northwestern)."

"As a variation of this practice, on a basis of estimated monthly expenses at an institution, an athlete may be guaranteed $25 to $20 a month, to be secured partly through work at off-campus jobs (Tennessee 5 to 20 athletes) or outright without reference to other than athletic services (West Virginia 25 or 30 football players)."

"In the east, relations have been established between certain preparatory schools on the one hand and certain colleges and universities on the other, whereby athletes, varying in number from 1 to as many as 20, have been wholly or partly maintained at the schools until they are ready for college (Brown, Carnegie Tech, Dartmouth, Dickinson, Lafayette, New York university, Pittsburgh, Princeton, Syracuse, Washington and Jefferson)."

Colleges Charged With Subsidizing

the comment that he had been shopping and "this is the result, subsidies," the bulletin points out, "appears to be less strenuous in the southwest and, with one or two exceptions, in New England, than it is in the eastern and middle Atlantic states."

"In the Rocky Mountain conference the practice of subsidizing is spreading in the middle west and south and on the Pacific coast soliciting and bidding for athletes are keen."

LETTERS ON FILE. "At some institutions the amount and nature of correspondence demand that a member of the athletic staff or a coach out of season shall attend to the letters of prospective athletes, and in some cases the files contain literally hundreds of letters to or about promising schoolboy athletes scattered over a very wide area (Brown, Dartmouth, Montana State college, New York university, Wisconsin, Wisconsin)."

At California, N. Y. U. and Pennsylvania, as well as at some smaller institutions, it is remarked, the football players are likely to care for such correspondence themselves."

"If all who receive and answer athletes' letters showed in their reply the same indifference to the letter as the letter that they exhibit in conversation and in speeches, the tone of such 'feelers' from high school athletes before they are accepted for college would be different. Evidence to this effect is found at Bates, Bowdoin, Brigham Young, Chicago, Cornell, Lehigh, Stanford, Tulane and Virginia."

Letters by the athletic department, the bulletin remarks: "If a regular or weekly or monthly wage is paid, the form may be necessarily large (New York university)."

EXTREME CASE. "In an extreme case 32 athletes and prospective athletes were employed to maintain a small playing field and to do odd jobs (New York university)."

"Some 17 athletes at the University of Wisconsin, where athletes are most extensively employed in this capacity, appeared on the regular pay rolls of the athletic department as trainers and rubbers, with an average monthly wage of $3.67. With all due allowance for large squads and an intensive rubbing system the number is generous."

Referring to "those forms of aid which are frankly and unequivocally termed athletic scholarships," the report says: "The amounts and the numbers of such awards available and the base of the award at the time of each field visit varied considerably (Blue Ridge 12; Colgate 25; Geneva 35; Georgetown, unspecified; Gettysburg 30; Fordham 20; Muhlenberg, unspecified; Pennsylvania State college 14; Syracuse 14; West Virginia Wesleyan 20; Ursinus 16.)"

"The benefit is rarely paid in cash. Values of athletic scholarships range from part or full tuition at the lower end of the scale (Colgate) to allowances graduated in amounts according to the number of teams for which the recipient is selected (Blue Ridge.)"

CHOSEN BY COACHES. In some cases, it is observed, "Coaches (Lebanon Valley) or a graduate manager (Syracuse) have chosen the recipients of athletic scholarships."

"The practice of 'caring for' more or less definite number of athletes, ranging from 25 to 5; (Bucknell, Gettysburg, West Virginia Wesleyan), is a somewhat less formal matter than the award of athletic scholarship. Its excuse is the competitive bids of rivals, and its limit usually is 'all college expenses.'"

"Sometimes (Boston college, Holy Cross, Notre Dame) no definite promises are made; the athlete is merely assured that he will be 'cared for.'"

"Although the probable success of the candidate at athletics is usually a pre-requisite to such arrangements, a further obligation of some sort is occasionally imposed: The performing of odd tasks about the campus, or recruiting—indeed an athlete successful at recruiting may even be valued at his full college expenses without any other requirement than attendance at the university (Oglethorpe)."

Recommendations and appointments to subsidies are made by persons intimately acquainted with the institution's athletic affairs: Coaches, graduate managers, athletic directors, the president's assistant (Gettysburg) or the president himself (Oglethorpe)."

SOURCE OF FUNDS. "Funds for subsidizing may come from alumni or friends of the college, from the athletic association or organization, or from the institution (Allegheny, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Centre, Dickinson, Grove City, Lafayette, Lebanon Valley, Northwestern, University of Pennsylvania, Western Maryland.)"

"At some preparatory schools these subsidy expenses have been charged advertising (Bellevue, Kiskiminetus) with a frank appreciation of their appropriateness of the procedure."

"The amounts available in slush funds vary (Carnegie Tech $13,000, Centre $600, Grove City $8,000, Lafayette $8,000) with the interest of contributors, but the number of beneficiaries varies less with the size of each fund than with the cost of living at the institutions (Carnegie Tech 32, Centre 11, Wisconsin 7, Grove City 25, Lafayette 12, Lebanon Valley 16, Northwestern 16, Western Maryland 6)."

"In an extreme case of subsidizing, alumni and business men made contributions ranging from $10 to nearly $1,000 annually to a fund aggregating $25,000 (Syracuse). From this the college expenses of all football players were paid and additional sums, termed as 'pay checks' were disbursed to leading performers (Washington and Jefferson). Later the practice was modified to provide only tuitions, board, room and fees, without cash payments. The essentials of the practice may be the same, even though the fund be small (Franklin and Marshall)."

"TAPERING-OFF." "In at least three instances the practices at the time of the field visits were explained as a tapering-off of more extensive operations (Centre, Lafayette, Northwestern)."

"As a variation of this practice, on a basis of estimated monthly expenses at an institution, an athlete may be guaranteed $25 to $20 a month, to be secured partly through work at off-campus jobs (Tennessee 5 to 20 athletes) or outright without reference to other than athletic services (West Virginia 25 or 30 football players)."

28 Colleges Win Clean Bill; Others Rest Under Cloud

New York, October 23.—(P)—At only 28 out of 112 North American colleges and universities studied by the Carnegie Foundation, was no evidence found that athletes were subsidized by any group or individual, says its report made public today. Seven of the 28 are Canadian in states. The complete list:

Bates (Maine)
Bowdoin (Maine)
Carleton (Minnesota)
Chicago (Ill.)
Cornell University
Dalhousie (Canada)
Emory (Georgia)
Laval (Canada)
McGill (Canada)
Marquette (Wisconsin)
Massachusetts Agricultural College
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Ottawa (Canada)
Queens (Canada)
Reed (Oregon)
University of New York Saskatchewan (Canada)
Toronto (Canada)
Trinity (Connecticut)
University of Pennsylvania
Tulane (Louisiana)
United States Military Academy University of Virginia
Wesleyan (Connecticut)
Williams (Massachusetts)
College of Wooster (Ohio)

The other 84 colleges visited, the 112 institutions having been selected from the list of 1,000 on a basis of geographical distribution, follow:

Amherst, Boston College, Brown, Dartmouth, Harvard, Holy Cross, Middlebury, Vermont, Springfield, Allegheny, Bucknell, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Colgate, Columbia, Dickinson, Fordham, Franklin and Marshall, Geneva, Gettysburg, Grove City, Hobart, Princeton, Rutgers, Syracuse, Ursinus, Washington and Jefferson, Blue Ridge.

Georgia, Georgia School of Technology, Georgetown, University of North Carolina, Oglethorpe, West Virginia, West Virginia Wesleyan, Western Maryland, Beloit, Michigan, Northwest, Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Purdue, Wisconsin, Coe, Des Moines, Drake, Haskell, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, South Dakota.

Alabama, Centre, Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Baylor, Oklahoma, Southern Methodist, University of Texas, Arizona, Brigham Young, Colorado, DePaul, Idaho, Montana State, Utah, Wyoming, California, Oregon State, Southern California, Stanford, University of Washington, Washington State, Hamilton, Susquehanna.

But they have sophomores at Clemson. These sophomores have rumbled around and pushed some of the older boys off the regular lineup. On or off, Clemson players are big, strong and tough.

Something will have to be done about the Tiger if it beats South Carolina. Then it will have six straight victories; well fortified to bust right on through November with such opposition as Kentucky, V. M. I., Florida and Furman. If Colby's team wades through that mob and is still undefeated then it will be knocking at the door of the throne room with enough force to break the door down.

South Carolina has been defeated once this season. Virginia crossed Laval with a 6-to-0 victory, in the second game of the season. After that the Gamecock slugged its way to Maryland, 26 to 6, and mashed Presbyterian College, 41 to 0.

Laval hasn't the sheer power; the big men; the capable reserve forces that Clemson has. Laval's system doesn't call for that, exactly. He is probably the most deceptive coach in the conference. His plays are full of deception. His teams are fast and you have no idea of their trickiness.

South Carolina and Clemson have played for years on end. The state legislature has so ordered; going so far as to specify the time and date. The date is the Thursday of State Fair week; the time is high noon. That is a law and it must be followed. They might have just as well written into the statute books that a fight was to take place when the teams met. That is exactly what happens. South Carolina and Clemson fight like brothers.

a figure that the arrangement can be regarded only as an athletic subsidy (Franklin and Marshall, New York university, Ohio Wesleyan, Oregon Agricultural Pennsylvania State). "Assistance to needy athletes at Catholic institutions takes several forms."

SCHOLARSHIPS. "It may be distributed as scholarship from athletic funds, covering wholly or partly tuition, board and room, in addition to assistance from individual alumni (Fordham) or jobs that provide tuition, board and room in return for very nominal services (Notre Dame); or an outright allocation of funds without return except in athletic participation (Georgetown)."

"Occasionally the attempt is made to balance awards to athletes with those to non-athletes (Holy Cross), so that no young man will feel that his muscles alone are sufficient to get him through, or priests may effect arrangements among their own parishioners, members of the faculty, or friends of their college by which athletes are made to be maintained (Boston college)."

"From such practices as these, in the light of intercollegiate competition, an offer to assist young men to secure part-time work at the usual student rate of compensation (Marquette) is poles apart."

"Any favor, however small, that tends to assist an athlete financially, if it is done because he is an athlete, marks the beginning of professionalism."

McCarthy Laughs At Dykes' Tale

Buffalo, N. Y., October 23.—(P)—Joe McCarthy, manager of the Chicago Cubs, was amused today over a statement yesterday by Jimmy Dykes, third-baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, that the A's knew all the Cubs pitching signals during the world series.

"If the A's had our signals, how is it they didn't score a run in that last game until the ninth inning?" he asked.

"If my men knew what the pitchers were going to throw they'd make so many runs in the very first inning they'd put the side out. No, I don't think the folks will take any stock in that sort of a story. And anyone who knows baseball will laugh at it. It's too ridiculous."

Dykes told the Delaware county real estate board at luncheon: "We worked it in this way. When one of our batters got on base, he could fix his eyes on Taylor, the Chicago catcher, who, at times, was a little careless. The runner would stand in a perfectly natural position until he caught the signal, then he would move his hand in such a way that the batter was informed what kind of a ball was about to be pitched."

Horween Drives His Squad Hard

Cambridge, Mass., October 23.—(United News.)—Dissatisfied with Harvard's showing against Army last week, Coach Arnold Horween sent his Crimson charges through a stiff training session today to discover men for the starting lineup for Saturday's game with Dartmouth. The session failed to uncover men for the first eleven. Faxon was placed at tackle, while Henry Gildea remained at center. Bill Tekner was sent in as right guard in place of Foster Davis, who was sent to B team.

Collins Is Pleased As Varsity Halts Freshmen in Long Scrimmage.

Chapel Hill, N. C., October 23.—(Special.)—Chuck Collins and his coaching staff drove the varsity through an entire afternoon of defensive scrimmage against the strong freshman eleven here this afternoon in a drive to prepare his Tarheels for the onslaughts of the V. P. I. Gobblers Saturday.

The results were much more gratifying than the Tarheels' game showing against Georgia last week—enough so to make Coach Collins say of today's exhibition: "I hope they do as well Saturday."

Reports today that Macanley McEver, brother of the famous Gene McEver, of the Tennessee team, who has been on the Gobbler injury list for the last two weeks, has fully recovered and will be hurled against the Tarheels Saturday have caused the Carolina coaches to sound a new warning. This V. P. I. McEver is the big boy who had most to do with the Gobblers holding the great Pennsylvania team to a 14 to 8 score on October 12. He is said to be the same type of sensational, colorful player that his brother Gene is.

In today's Tarheel practice the big varsity line was crashing in with a drive and fury born of defeat and ambition to nail freshman backs on or behind the line of scrimmage on almost every play. The freshmen made a gain or so via the aerial route, but the backs intercepted enough.

Cinch Now. When Baltimore turned out a 70,000 crowd for the Navy-Notre Dame game this year it cinched an annual game for the municipal stadium with Navy on one end of the competition but the backs intercepted enough.

INSTALLMENT LII.
THE SECOND WARNING.

On returning to his room Dorling locked his door and placed a chair in front of it. A glance at his window showed him that it was quite impossible for anyone to enter while the train was in motion. Then, without any great difficulty, he put the matter out of his mind and went to sleep.

It was when he was dressing early on the following morning—when the train was within an hour of Mortu— that he received the second note.

It was in his shoe. He had put his shoes out over night to be cleaned and the representative of the chief, whoever he might be, had used this easy means for another communication.

As before the handwriting was a forgery of his own. It was written on a similar piece of torn note-paper.

"Dear sir: This letter is written on the assumption that you have shown my previous communication to Mr. Warren. Mr. Warren does not, presumably, at this moment, believe that you knowingly wrote that letter to yourself. But there will be planted in his mind the possibility that you may have written that letter more or less unconsciously. He may reason that you may well be a victim of hallucination. The unconscious egomaniac, who writes letters to himself without being able to remember having done so, especially letters that flatter him or revile him, is a fairly common figure. Thus the way is prepared. Mr. Warren will readily believe that the island was an hallucination of yours (I have ascertained that he has not had an opportunity of discussing the matter with his daughter). All that I ask is that you fail to find the island. I ask this because I feel a genuine shrinking from the act of murder to which you will inevitably drive me by a refusal to come to terms. If you agree, please fix the fragments of plaster enclosed to your chin. It will look as if you have cut yourself in shaving. Those of my friends who are ready to kill you will recognize this sign and leave you unmolested. Yours very truly, The Chief."

Struck below the signature was a tiny strip of black court plaster. Dorling removed the plaster and held it hesitatingly between thumb and finger.

"I can't afford to throw away a single weapon in this little tussle," he told himself and fixed the plaster to his cheek.

He folded the letter and thrust it into his pocket. After Warren's doubtful reception of the previous letter he decided he would say nothing about this latest warning.

He looked again in the mirror. The plaster could be seen at a considerable distance and would deceive unwise watchers into the belief that the chief had frightened him.

"I'm damned if I will!" he exploded—and took the plaster from his cheek.

Breakfast which promised to be as tedious as the previous night's dinner was brought to an abrupt end by the train running into Mortu station.

There followed a certain amount of bustle. A railway official wanted to know whether Warren would like the special run onto a siding. Two local police superintendents claimed Rason's attention.

Dorling went back to his room, threw the few necessities he carried into his handbag and stepped on to the platform, where Rason was waiting.

"Will you come with me, Lord Dorling?" said the detective and led him to a waiting car, behind which was another car filled to its capacity with plainclothes men.

"Are you going to raid right away?" asked Dorling.

"That's the idea. We have some 50 men round the place at various strategic points. It has been hemmed in since yesterday afternoon. According to the latest reports no one has passed out of the place except two typists yesterday evening and they were allowed to return this morning. They are local girls and, whatever their jobs may be, the superintendent is quite satisfied that they don't know what is really going on."

"I rather fancy you'll find a good many like that," said Dorling gloomily. "That's why I'm not too keen on this raid."

"You needn't let that worry you," Rason reassured him. "As a matter of fact, we shan't proceed against the underlings. We want the ringleaders—not only that chief if he really exists—the managers, the men and women who are really running the show."

The car sped along the road that was already familiar to Dorling. Presently he asked:

"You might as well tell me, Mr. Rason—what is your real opinion about that letter I showed you last night?"

"I haven't any opinion," said Rason frankly. "We generally get a lot of anonymous letters flying about on a job like this. I don't attach any particular importance to it."

Dorling would have let the matter rest there but the detective's complacency irritated him.

"It becomes important—if I wrote it myself," he pressed.

"We can safely leave it to subsequent events to settle that question, Lord Dorling."

"It may interest you to know that I had another letter this morning in my shoe. It said much the same thing. It was also written in a forgery of my handwriting."

"Oh?" The detective was interested in spite of himself. "Perhaps you'd better let me see it?"

"Thanks," said Dorling bitterly. "But I'd rather wait until 'subsequent events' have proved whether I wrote it or not."

"I'm afraid you're annoyed about that, Lord Dorling. It's the difficulty of working with laymen. You see, it would have been very easy to give you a polite assurance that we recognized at once that it was a forgery—but what would have been the use of it? We should have had our suspicions just the same. It's part of our job to be suspicious of everything—and everybody."

"Then you suspect me at this moment?"

"In a sense—yes."

"You think, for instance, that I am not really going to do my best to find that island—with the R. A. F. following me. You think I am going to lead them into some trap—or just fool them?"

"Not a bit of it!" said Rason emphatically. "It's like this. If you find that island—with the R. A. F. following you—I shall be pleased but not surprised. Equally, if you don't find it—if any funny business should take place—well, I shan't be surprised either."

Chicago, October 23.—(AP)—Jarrred by a crash in stock market values, grain prices came tumbling down fast today, especially in the late dealings. Wheat suffered the biggest drop and dragged corn and oats along. Aside from the demoralizing effect of a crash in stock exchange quotations, a severe cut in estimates of world wheat and corn needs was announced by a British authority, and due much to wheat prices down and much to corn prices up. Closing quotations on wheat were unstable at the day's bottom, 37-3/4 to 43-3/4 a bushel below yesterday's finish. Corn closed 21-1/2 to 23-1/2, and oats 11-1/2 to 11-3/4, with provisions ranging from 10c to 12c.

From the close of today, wheat prices showed an evident downward trend, but for the greatest momentum trend, but for the final half hour of trading. It was at this stage that news of violent breaks in Wall Street quotations had a notable disturbing effect on the grain market, and brought about a sharp decline in wheat prices. A large scale by wheat holders on a the wheat market was visible. Earlier in the day, however, wheat prices had been firm, and it was not until the late afternoon that a sharp decline was visible. BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN,
Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, October 23.—(AP)—Jarrred by a crash in stock market values, grain prices came tumbling down fast today, especially in the late dealings. Wheat suffered the biggest drop and dragged corn and oats along. Aside from the demoralizing effect of a crash in stock exchange quotations, a severe cut in estimates of world wheat and corn needs was announced by a British authority, and due much to wheat prices down and much to corn prices up. Closing quotations on wheat were unstable at the day's bottom, 37-3/4 to 43-3/4 a bushel below yesterday's finish. Corn closed 21-1/2 to 23-1/2, and oats 11-1/2 to 11-3/4, with provisions ranging from 10c to 12c.

From the close of today, wheat prices showed an evident downward trend, but for the greatest momentum trend, but for the final half hour of trading. It was at this stage that news of violent breaks in Wall Street quotations had a notable disturbing effect on the grain market, and brought about a sharp decline in wheat prices. A large scale by wheat holders on a the wheat market was visible. Earlier in the day, however, wheat prices had been firm, and it was not until the late afternoon that a sharp decline was visible.

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

So quickly had the beasts of Tarzan taken possession of the canoe that Mungami had not noticed that it was already occupied. In the darkness the observation of the beasts was not hindered by the observation of the beasts. But no sooner were the beasts than a savage growling from one of the apes attracted his attention to the shivering and cowering native woman trembling between him and the great anthropoid.

With difficulty he kept the ape from her throat, and after a time succeeded in quelling her fears. Mungami did not wish her presence, but was unwilling to lose time by returning her to shore. Downstream they swiftly paddled until the shadowy outline of the Kincaid loomed ahead. Just as he urged his creatures to renewed efforts, the outline of another canoe burst suddenly into view not three yards from the bow of his own craft.

Just as the two dugouts were about to touch, a man in the oncoming boat challenged them, not recognizing the nature of the fearful crew. For the moment the man's gaze was fixed on the face of the woman in the canoe with Mungami, and he saw that she was a native of the Kincaid. Before the man's gaze was fixed on the face of the woman in the canoe with Mungami, and he saw that she was a native of the Kincaid. Before the man's gaze was fixed on the face of the woman in the canoe with Mungami, and he saw that she was a native of the Kincaid.

He gave a quick command to fire, and it was this volley sent into the silent night toward the beasts of Tarzan and the screen of the terrified native woman in the canoe with Mungami that both Tarzan and Jane heard. Before the awkward apes, being momentarily dazed at the gunshot, could turn swiftly downstream and were padding for their lives in the direction of the Kincaid.

Leopard May Lose Spots; Negroes May Be Made White

New York, October 23.—(United Press.)—Dr. Yasuhiro Noguchi, Japanese biologist, arrived in New York today on the liner Pan-America from Brazil, and announced to reporters that, after 15 years of painstaking research and experiment, he is now prepared to change a negro into a white, an Indian into a Japanese, a dwarf into a giant and a potential criminal into an upstanding member of society. Dr. Noguchi said that by his process he can regulate man's stature and the breadth of the shoulder, take the spots off a leopard and the stripes off a zebra.

He intends, he said, to devote his work to the Japanese race. He is more than six feet tall and weighs 180 pounds, and he wants to change all Japanese men and women into persons of his own physical stature.

Dr. Noguchi is head of the Noguchi hospital at Itoyu, Japan. His treatment, he said, include the use of sun rays, ultra-violet rays, special diets and glandular treatments. "Racial characteristics," he declared, "are the result of a combination of glandular secretions and physical environment. On the basis of knowledge he has acquired in an extensive world tour, he claimed, he could practically build an infant, halting its growth or stimulating it, fixing its stature, breadth of shoulder and other physical characteristics. "Given time," he said, "I could change the Japanese into a race of tall, blue-eyed blonds." He said the Japanese government is vitally interested in his experiments.

13-YEAR-OLD BOY COMMITTS SUICIDE ON HUNTING TRIP

Shreveport, La., October 23.—(AP)—After an all-night search, the body of Fred Whitworth, 13, of Greenwood, near here, was found today in a clump of pine trees within a hundred yards of the home of his widowed mother, Mrs. E. Whitworth, 40, of Greenwood. The boy was found with a bullet wound in the head, and a verdict of suicide "after school hours" yesterday carrying only one bullet for his 22-cal. rifle. He was shot through the heart.

FATE OF FALL TO REST WITH THURSDAY

Charge of Judge Only Needed To Conclude Bribery Trial.

Washington, October 23.—(AP)—Arguments to the jury in the bribery trial of Albert B. Fall were concluded today with the government's denunciation of Fall's oil transactions while he was secretary of the interior and the case will be submitted to the jury tomorrow morning by Justice William Hitz.

The court's instructions to the jury are expected to require a verdict of guilty on an hour and the four women and eight men probably will retire to determine their verdict shortly after 11 o'clock. Before the government's prosecution, Fall was charged with having received $100,000 in bribes from the oil companies in exchange for his influence in the interior department.
